Who's the winner?

Motorcyclists maneuver around a sharp curve during sanctioned race by American Motorcycle Assn. on Chain O' Lakes waterway. Sponsors of the event are hoping that Mother Nature will provide cold enough temperatures to avoid cancellation of the county-wide races scheduled for Feb. 5. Lake, McHenry and Kenosha County residents are bracing for predicted end of the January spring-like weather. For more, see related story in sports. - Photo by Michael Jordan.

Mild winter raises havoc with plants

by JOSEPH SOULAK

This winter's wimpy weather might be great for those who heat with gas or oil, take long walks or, generally, don't like snow and cold.

But it sure is tough on plants, shrubs and trees. If they aren't already stressed they soon might be. And before long they are going to need some moisture.

Right now there is virtually no frost in the ground, moisture is noticeable absent and the greenery that calls the ground their home doesn't know what season this is.

"Normally, plants like to get cold starting in October, sleep all winter and wake up in the warmth of spring," said Lake County Extension Adviser Robert Schmerbauch. "They don't like catnaps." With the weather we have had as of late they don't know what to do.

Fortunately, Schmerbauch said, there is no noticeable damage to grass, shrubs, rose bushes or evergreens. If there is, it will not show up until April or May.

Unless there is an increase in rainfall or more snow this spring, all plant life could be in for real trouble. "Everything is starting to dehydrate," the farm adviser said of the winter wind and 30-plus degree sun.

This has happened because Lake County had a four-inch moisture deficiency for 1988 due, in part, to last summer's drought. "Grave diggers tell me there is moisture down to about eight inches, then it gets very dry," Schmerbauch said. "There is virtually no frost, so a backhoe can dig without any effort." That just doesn't happen in a normal winter.

Lack of moisture won't wreak havoc early this spring with anything green. That will happen later in the growing season, the farm adviser said. This will show up as brown on trees, plants and grass. If March and April showers bring the traditional May flowers, all farmers, gardeners and those who like lush lawns will see the plant world come alive. "A normal spring should green everything up," Schmerbauch predicted.

After that the course Mother Nature takes will depend on normal rainfall. The hot growing months of July and August, when plants depend upon reserve moisture in the soil, could be the tell-tale time. During this 60-day period, plants and field crops use more moisture than falls.

Horse breeders will find this winter has not been kind to them. Lack of snow cover and moisture have already stunted what will be the 1989 hay and alfalfa crop. The overall effect will be reduced yields. "More thawing and freezing in February and March will be a disaster," Schmerbauch added.

This comes on top of a poor growing season in 1988. "In February most breeders will deplete the hay crop they put up last year," the farm adviser said. "Some are already scrambling for added supplies."

There isn't much man can do except hope for the best. While this winter has been more unusual than usual, all of this doesn't mean the summer of 1989 will be a repeat of last year.

Robert Schmerbauch

Open space preserves today for tomorrow

by JOSEPH SOULAK

Open space is far from being the dirty word developers, land speculators and real estate agents say it is. Rather, it is an effort aimed at improving the quality of life for those now living here and in the future, increases property values and preserves some of the natural beauty that was here before man.

This is the message of James Fox of Chicago, leading open-space advocate in the six counties of northeastern Illinois. A Chicago attorney, he is president of the Open Lands Project, which is dedicated to preserving part of Mother Nature through land acquisition services, conservation programs, education and local advocacy programs.

Fox spoke at the Jan. 30 meeting of Curb Over-Development (C.O.D.). The Libertyville-based political action committee was formed last fall. Purpose is to stop over-development, safeguard the environment, protect the quality of life, promote open space and reduce traffic congestion. Chairman is Libertyville Twp. Sup. F.T. "Mike" Graham.

Fox appeared as a special guest of Graham, who is also president of Illinois' first and only open space district.

"Illinois has an extreme shortage of public open space land," Fox said beforehand. "The Chicago region ranks last among large metropolitan areas nationwide in per capita park acreage for greenways. He noted Washington, D.C., has more such land than Chicago."

"Competition for open space is fierce," Fox said in a passing reference to (continued on page 22)

Crane says he plans to seek reelection in 1990

Congressman Philip M. Crane has announced that he will seek reelection in 1990 to his 12th Congressional District seat.

"I want to put to rest immediately," Congressman Crane declared, "any reports that next year I may seek the U.S. Senate seat now held by Paul Simon."

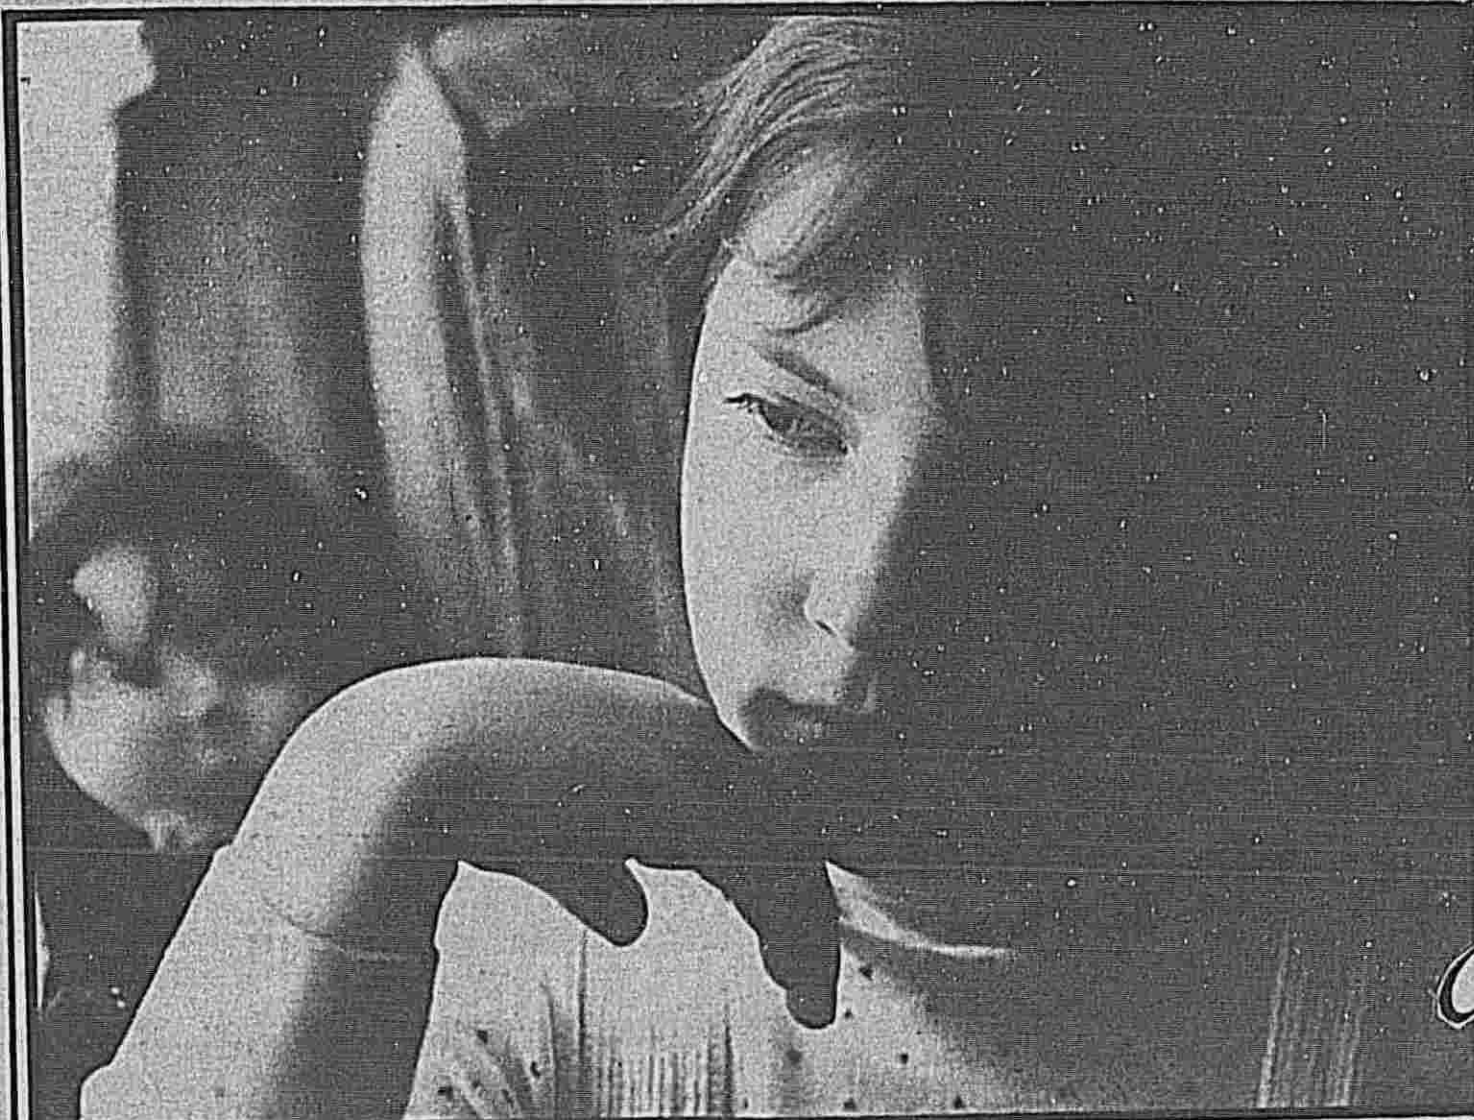

"I have considered running for the Senate in the past," he went on. "However, my seniority now places me as the third ranking Republican member on the House Ways and Means Committee. And, again in the 101st Congress, I have been elected to serve as vice-chairman of the Trade Subcommittee.

"While it has been gratifying to have many friends and associates suggest that I run for the U.S. Senate, I wish to remain in the House of Representatives where I have been fortunate to serve the people of Illinois for the past 19 years."

"Regarding next year's Senate race, there are many very qualified Republicans capable of convincing Illinois voters that Senator Simon preaches a good game of declaring himself a conservative spender, but in reality he practices a game of big spending for bigger government."

Alcoholics do not suffer alone ...

We get hurt, too.

Alcohol and drug abuse afflicts an estimated 59 million Americans, young and old, male and female. And the number of people whose lives are affected - even endangered by an alcoholic is even more alarming.

People like employers, co-workers, neighbors, friends, spouses and, most regrettable...children. Did you know, for example, that a child with one alcoholic parent has a significantly greater chance of developing alcoholism than the child of non-alcoholic parents?

At Victory Memorial Hospital, we're helping alcoholics (and their friends and families) recognize and understand their illness. Victory offers unique outpatient and in-hospital programs. And we have specific programs for the chemically dependent adult or teen.

If you need help, or would like to learn more about the disease of addiction, call Victory's 24-hour resource line at 688-HELP. We can help the hurting stop. Call today.

Briefs

Open house

St. Peter School has chosen the week of Feb. 5 as Catholic Schools Week. Parents are cordially invited to attend an open house at St. Peter School on Sunday, Feb. 5, following the 9:30 a.m. Mass and continuing until 1:30 p.m. Children's work will be displayed in each homeroom and throughout the school. Parents are welcome to visit any area of the school.

Registration

Registration for families new to St. Peter School will begin promptly at 10:30 a.m. on Feb. 5. Families presently enrolled may register immediately after the 9:30 Mass. Because some grades are close to the numerical limit, it is important that everyone register now. Every family must register, including those (presently) attending St. Peter School. Registration is not official unless the $25 registration fee (non-refundable) is paid. First graders and new students must present a copy of their baptismal or birth certificate. First graders must be six years of age on or before Sept. 1, 1989.

AARP party

Antioch Area Chapter 387 of the American Assn. of Retired Persons (AARP) will hold a Valentine party on Feb. 14. A king and queen will be crowned and prizes awarded. All members who have not purchased tickets for the catered lunch will have to brown-bag it. Glen Peterson, tour chairman, is selling tickets for 'South Pacific', lunch and show, at the Martinique in Chicago. The trip to New Orleans, in May, has nine places still available, so contact Peterson, if interested. Next meeting is Feb. 14 at the Senior Center, 817 Holbek Dr., Antioch. Visitors and new members are always welcome.

Toft in favor of road, street re-routing in town

"For years, the traffic on Rte. 83 (Main St.) where it intersects Orchard St., Depot St. and Park Ave. has been a problem. Now, with the re-development of our downtown progressing along with the development of Lake St. Plaza and the rehabilitation of Antioch Shopping Plaza, we will see even more traffic at those intersections," said Antioch Mayor Ray Toft.

"I have directed the Antioch Re-development Committee to look into hiring a traffic engineer to do a study of traffic safety, flow, congestion and parking problems in the downtown area," said Toft.

"The village is presently reviewing one proposal from Paul C. Box and Associates of Skokie, which suggests a re-routing of Depot St. to align with Orchard St. and

St. Ignatius gets lucky

Members of committee to make Las Vegas Night at St. Ignatius Church in Antioch big success meet. The special event will be held at the VFW Hall on North Ave., from 5 p.m. to midnight on Saturday, Feb. 4. Prizes will be won every half hour. Profits will go to help restore the church that was built in 1865. — Photo by Tom Wolfe.

St. Peters Board to have 3 openings

On April 30, three members of the school board of St. Peters School (James Haley, James Naseda, and Wayne Sobczak) will have completed their terms. St. Peter Parish consequently will vote for their replacements.

To provide for a smooth transition in selecting their replacements, the school board has developed and adopted the following procedures for nominating, qualifying, and electing members of the parish school board. Terms are for a period of three years. Members may serve a maximum of two elected terms.

The election committee will be appointed annually by the school board chairman. To include ex-office members of the board and board members.

The election will be held on April 23.

Voting will take place after each Mass (including the 5:30 p.m. Mass on April 22). All adult parishioners or parents of St. Peter School children are eligible to vote. Parish rolls will be used to determine vote eligibility. Election committee will be responsible to appoint election judges.

A simple majority will be sufficient to elect a member. In the event of a tie, a runoff election will be held on the following Sunday. Results of any runoff election will be announced on the Sunday after the runoff.

Election results will be published and announced on Sunday, April 30.

Elected members will be seated at the first regularly scheduled meeting after the election, i.e., in May.

Ballots will be made available in Fr. Frawley Hall after each Mass.

Prospective members must qualify according to the school board requirements: reside in the community for at least six months; be a parish member or parent of St. Peter school child; must be a minimum of 18 years old. No person employed by the school may serve on the board.

Candidates for board membership must submit their application-petition signed by at least 10 parishioners or parents of St. Peter school children, to the principal, no later than Tuesday, March 7.

Application-petition forms will be available at the school office beginning Feb. 1. Names will appear on the ballot in the order petitions are filed.

The election committee will be responsible for certification of all applicants. Election committee will accept all application-petitions. Election committee will determine eligibility and acceptance of candidates to the school board.

PM&L busy remodeling, rehearsing 'Chapter Two'

by LIZ SCHMEHL
(312)395-5380

I would like to start this week's column off with a big "thank you" to Carolyn Hammond for sharing her journalism tips with me. Carolyn, thanks for taking the time to help me out. I am sure all the information you sent me will be very helpful.

PM&L Theatre

All theater goers hold onto your hats. I have a lot of news about Antioch's own PM&L Theatre. The theatre is still engaged in its renovation project. The work is done by volunteers, and the improvements just keep rolling along. Presently, they are re-doing the lighting and fixing up an office area.

The players are now in rehearsal for "Chapter Two", a play by Neil Simon. "Chapter Two" is a comedy, and is scheduled to open on Friday, Feb. 10. The opening night will be followed by a champagne party. So mark your calendars for a night of fun right in your own "hometown".

On Sunday, Feb. 5, and Monday, Feb. 6, there will be auditions for PM&L's next play, entitled "Children of a Lesser God". The auditions will be held at the theater on Main St. from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. There are four female roles and three male roles, and the hearing impaired are welcome to audition. If further information is needed, you may call the theatre at (312)395-1333.

Eye checkup

They say bad things happen in threes, and three always seems to be humor in someone else's misfortunes. Such is the case with a distinguished area businessman, Mr. James Seeless. A while back, he was sitting on stage waiting for his turn to give a presentation.

When it was time, he moved out his chair and proceeded to fall off the stage. Another time, he was at an important business meeting and decided to leave a message with a rather attractive receptionist. Feasting his eyes on her beauty and not much else, he decided to sit in the chair next to her desk.

Can you just imagine the look of surprise on his face as he landed on the floor instead. It just so happened there was no chair next to the pretty lady's desk.

Recently, in lieu of all these mishaps, Mr. Seeless decided it was time for an eye exam. He was ushered into the examining room, and when the eye doctor entered he said, "Good day, Mr. Seeless. How are you today?" Mr. Seeless replied, "Frankly, I feel rather faint!" and he then passed out.

Fortunately, the eye doctor was able to revive him with smelling salts and proceed with the examination. Given a new prescription for contact lenses, Mr. Seeless is now confident he will be able to see more, at least stages and chairs. Now if he can also master these painting spells, he'll be doing okay. Good luck to you, James, and a big thank you to the Mrs. for sharing these laughable moments with us all.

Valentine party

I talked with Betty Hentschell and Paul Howard of the Antioch Senior Center. They were both excited about the center's next gala event. Friday, Feb. 17, is the date of their annual Valentine Party.

Members will be choosing a king and queen to reign over this event. Seniors will enjoy dancing to the music of the band, winning various door prizes, and laughing at the "hilarious" jokes told by comedian/master of ceremonies Paul Howard.

Paul would also like to remind seniors that the last Monday of every month is the free blood pressure screening given at the center. The next screening is scheduled for 10 a.m. on Monday, Feb. 27.

Davis Simpson, I am glad you finally caught up on your out-of-town correspondence. Keep it that way.

Skating championships

Jan. 28 and 29 three area youths went to Butte, Mont., to compete in the National Outdoor Ice Skating Championships. The competitors are: eleven-year-old Brad Rubash of Antioch, twelve-year-old Chris Passarella of Antioch, and thirteen-year-old Jenny Passarella of Lindenhurst.

Jenny and Chris are cousins. For these youths to be involved in these competitions is the result of months and months of hard work, patience and practice.

Brad, Chris and Jenny train at the Olympic Training Track in West Allis, Wisc. I do not have the results of the competition at this time, but in my opinion these three youngsters are already winners, as involvement in this championship is an accomplishment in itself.

Whoever said the youth of today are lazy? Certainly not anyone who knows how hard they trained for this and other competitions. What an opportunity for them all. A big hip, hip, huray to all of you from our readers.

St. Peter open house

St. Peter School in Antioch will host its annual open house on Sunday, Feb. 5. Parents, friends and visitors will receive a warm welcome from the choir and are invited to view student displays throughout the building. Grades first through eight each have special class projects for the parents to enjoy, and the advanced band and choir have special surprises in store.

Along with the open house, the annual book fair will be held—a tantalizing array of books will be on hand for all avid readers. Take time to visit St. Peter School on Feb. 5 between 10:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. You won't be disappointed.

Woman's Aglow

The Antioch Woman's Aglow Fellowship meets the first Tuesday of each month. It is open to all women of all faiths. There will be an open meeting on Tuesday, Feb. 7, at 7:30 p.m. in the Brook Com-munty Room at the State Bank of Antioch. The guest speaker will be Mr. Broyles.

Each month there is a different speaker. Some speakers give personal testimonials on how the Lord has affected their lives and helped them with personal problems.

Other speakers may speak on the teachings of scripture. There is a retreat planned for March 10 and 11 at the Woodfield Hilton. Women may attend both days or either of the two, and there is a $7 registration fee for each day. Registration forms will be available at the Feb. 7 meeting, or contact Shirley Berkiel for further information at (312)395-0060.

Preschool story time

Among other things, the Antioch Twp. Library offers a preschool story time. Stories, movies and other activities will be presented for children between the ages of three and five years old. Sessions are limited to 10 children. Children may be signed up at the library for one session per week. The sessions are Thursday or Friday at 9:30 a.m. or 11:30 a.m. Sessions are 12 weeks long. The library also hosts an activity hour on Saturdays from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m.

The activity hour is for grades kindergarten through four, and there is a limit of 30 children. Registration is limited to patrons with current Antioch Twp. Library cards. A nice way to get children in the habit of using the library at an early age.

Happy ending

We all like happy endings. Thanks to yours truly, two beautiful golden retrievers were reunited with their family. The reunion would have been sooner if the dogs had a collar on with ID tags. Remember, pet owners, dogs can't walk up to someone when lost and give out his/her name and address. So do your pet a favor, make sure it is wearing the proper identification.

12 hugs a day?

For your information, did you know everyone needs 12 hugs a day? We all need at least four to survive, eight to maintain good emotional health, and 12 to thrive. So help someone thrive—start hugging your family members and friends on a regular basis. Remember, the best things in life are free, so give away a few free hugs today.

Once again, it's been great coming into your home via the paper. I'll be waiting to hear from you at (312)395-5380 with your news, and remember to "Ask For the Lizard"!

Antioch girls prepare for regional tournament

by PETER RECHENBERG

The Antioch girls basketball team has the unenviable task of trying to shut down Crystal Cobb and the rest of her Blue Devil teammates when top rated Warren plays Antioch in the first round of the regional tournament on Monday.

The Sequoits will host the regional tournament, but head coach Cindy Martin does not see that as a big advantage for the Sequoits. "We're seeded last in the tournament so it's really not a big advantage," Martin said.

Cobb is Warren's all everything player and Martin said if you stop her you stop Warren. However, that's easier said than done according to Martin. "She's (Cobb) unbelievable," said Martin. "No matter where she is on the court she can put it in. She's Warren's whole team."

The Sequoits went 0-2 in North Suburban Conference action as they lost to Fenton by a score of 42-36 and they also lost to North Chicago by a score of 51-46. The Sequoits committed 43 turnovers in the loss to North Chicago and Martin was not pleased with the Sequoits play. "There's no way they (North Chicago) should have ever beaten us," Martin said. "We had way too many turnovers and that killed us." Teri Farnsworth and Jenny Hagen each had 11 points for the Sequoits.

The Sequoits played pretty well against Fenton but they came up six points short. "Fenton's a pretty decent team and we played pretty well against them," Martin said.

The Sequoits record dropped to 2-21 overall and 1-14 in conference.

Sequoits defeat Patriots but lose to Niles North

by PETER RECHENBERG

The Antioch Sequoits will play two home games this weekend as they will battle Mundelein on Friday and Lake Forest on Saturday. Tipoff is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. and head coach Jeff Dresser thinks the Sequoits can come up with two victories this weekend. "Both Mundelein and Lake Forest are behind us so we should be able to beat them," Dresser said.

The Sequoits split their games in North Suburban Conference action as they defeated Stevenson 59-51, but they lost to Niles North by a score of 60-54.

The Sequoits got balanced scoring in their victory over the Patriots as Matt Pelland and Jeff Becker each had 15 points. Ryan Coskey chipped in with 11 points. The Sequoits quick start was the key to their victory according to Dresser.

"We got a real good start as we came out in a press and that got us going," Dresser said. "We played well on defense and that carried over to our offense. We got some nice easy buckets from our transition game and we ran our offense well. We did a lot of things right." Stevenson got as close as seven points in the final quarter as the game got very physical according to Dresser.

"The referees let a lot of pushing and shoving go in the fourth quarter and they cut our lead down to seven points," Dresser said. "However, our kids hung in there and they played well."

The Sequoits played well against Niles North and they had a three point lead with two minutes left to go in the game. Then Viking guard J.J. Pearl took over. Pearl hit two consecutive three point field goals and he made both of his free throw attempts to help the Vikings defeat Antioch by a score of 60-54.

"Those two three pointers really took the wind out of us," Dresser said. "We had a lot of chances to take a big lead in the first half but we didn't take advantage of that. We have lacked the killer instinct all year and when we have a team down we need to put them away."

Ryan Coskey led the Sequoits in scoring with 19 points. Scott Gooch scored 10 points and Brad Nauman came off the bench and played well for the Sequoits.

AUGS ends season

The 1988-89 sixth and seven grade girls' Antioch Upper Grade School girls' basketball team ended up with an excellent record of 10 wins and four losses.

Throughout the season, the girls put the pressure on other teams with solid rebounding, pressure defense and good shooting. By the end of the season, all the girls played equally well, with the sixth graders greatly improved.

The 1988-89 team members are:

Seventh grade—Helen Exarhakos, Amy Glenn, Maline Gooch, Amy Hammer and Karen Lepianka.

Sixth grade—Caryn Colburn, Beth Desbiens, Kathy English, Demetra Exarhakos, Loris Folbrick, Chrissy Hammer, Daria Hauser, Carrie Nelson, Jeanine Olsen and Chrissy Thomas.

The 1988-89 eighth grade girls' basketball team had an exciting season. The team played aggressive defensive and was not afraid to get in the pits for rebounds. Although they finished below 500, the team played hard and tested nearly every opponent. Best of all, the team showed an excellent attitude and good sportsmanship.

Members of the eighth grade team are: Charlotte Berger, Megan Bivona, Erica Boehm, Marla Chavez, Jodie Martin, Dawn Morley, Kim Patchak, Joanne Pecoraro, Charlene Ruhela, Nikki Smith, Jennifer Thompson and Laura Tomec.

The AUGS boys' basketball team's conference record will be 3-11, but easily could have been 6-8. Because the team is young and improving, next year's outlook is a bright one. This team worked hard.

Preserve withdraws, Antioch Twp. buy off

by GLORIA DAVIS

At a special meeting of the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist., Lake County Board Member Mike Graham made a motion that was approved by county board(forest preserve commissioners) to withdraw a proposal to acquire 2,500 acres of property off of Deep Lake Rd. in Antioch Twp., including the Red Wing Marsh-Deer Lake area.

The forest preserve district also withdrew its request for an injunction against the Antioch Village Board to cease annexation efforts toward 1,450 acres of that property.

The village and the county were due to appear in the Lake County Circuit Court of Judge Emilio Santee on Wednesday concerning that injunction and the village's contention that Lake County Forest Preserve General Council Donald Morrison was not legally authorized to send the village notice of the forest preserve's intention to acquire the 2,500 acres.

The village has been trying to annex 1,450 of those acres after being petitioned to do so by the owners of that acreage.

According to state statute, when a municipality has been advised by the forest preserve district of intentions to acquire, the municipality can no longer try for annexation.

Village Atty. Ken Clark said that two weeks ago, at a County Board meeting concerning forest preserve acquisition, Graham, a leading open space advocate from Libertyville, made a three-part motion, the last part of that motion being to authorize Morrison to send notice of acquisition intentions to the Village of Antioch and the property owners concerned.

While the motion was still on the table, a walkout of forest preserve commissioners led by Dist. 4 representative Jim Fields, former County Board chairman, and Charlotte Keisgen took place.

The problem stemmed from the wording of Graham's motion and the fact that the maps were not accurate, said Fields.

Fields said later that he would like to see the proposals go back to committee and be amended so that they would be agreeable to the county, the village board and the property owners.

Fields added that he would like for the county to talk to the individual property owners concerned "after the whole thing cools down."

The walkout killed the meeting, leaving no official quorum to conduct business.

Meanwhile both the village and the forest preserve have been calling special meetings all over the place.

The village had called a special board meeting for 7:30 p.m. on Monday, Jan. 30 in lieu of the special meeting called for the next day, Tuesday, by the forest preserve district.

The village board had asked the taxing bodies concerned to waive the 10-day waiting period usually required between the time the village notifies them of annexation intentions. The village then intended to beat the forest preserve to the punch by annexing 1,450 of the acres being considered by the county before the Tuesday meeting.

Antioch Atty. Robert Long had filed a request for a temporary injunction challenging the legality of the 6 a.m. special board meeting held by the village preceding the County Board meeting where the walkout occurred.

It was at this meeting the notices of impending annexation went out to the taxing bodies.

On Monday morning, Lake County Judge Steven Walter said that the village board didn't really need an official meeting to send out the notices to the taxing bodies and Long asked that the motion be dismissed.

Long said that he had made these legal moves "to try and stop the village from annexing a large piece of property almost as big as the village itself with no plans for servicing it."

Long added that he was also trying to stop the village from getting involved in an expensive legal fight with the forest preserve.

At 4 p.m., on Monday, Jan. 30, Clark and Morrison agreed that the village board would not take any action on the 1,450 acres on Monday night and that the forest preserve would take no action on the same acreage at the special county meeting called for Tuesday, Jan. 31.

So all moves concerning the 1,450-acre acquisition went on a hold that was broken by the county's withdrawal from attempts to acquire the entire 2,500 acres, but a door was left open by some of the commissioners for the forest preserve to possibly acquire a portion of that acreage sometime in the future.

Land owners, Antioch winners in county fight

by GLORIA DAVIS
Now that the Lake County Forest Preserve

Dist.(County Board) has decided to withdraw from all proposals for acquiring

2,500 acres off of Deep Lake Rd. in Antioch Twp. for the time being, the property owners seem to have accomplished their mission.

The Village of Antioch may not be interested in annexing the Red Wing-Deer Lake area(supports county in interest of conservation) but the people that own area property and some officials are interested in what happens to it.

At least 100 of them showed up at a special meeting called by said property owners in opposition to the Lake County Forest Preserve acquisition.

Most attending planned to go to the county meeting the next day to voice their opposition to any plans for the county to acquire the 1,00-acre Red Wing Marsh area.

The three-hour meeting was held at the Antioch Senior Center with local officials and county and state officials, such as State Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis(31 dist.) County Board member Jim Fields attending.

At this meeting, Antioch Trustee Robert Wilton and others openly blamed Frank Sullivan for the problem caused by the forest preserve proposal because his open space group, the Antioch Twp. Assn., had requested that the forest preserve make a 200-acre acquisition in the area.

Sullivan is opposing incumbent Antioch Twp. Sup. Jim Fields in the upcoming township election.

Wilton indicted Sullivan for causing trouble for other property owners when his own property was not included in the forest preserve acquisition.

Sullivan said that his open space group originally asked the forest preserve district to acquire the 200-acre Bailey Farm last October when it was already for sale in the interest of keeping open space where developments were springing up.

Sullivan said that though things may have gotten out of hand with the property amount growing to 2,500 acres, he has since talked to experts that claim that 200 acres would not be enough for a proper protective buffer for the preservation of the Red Wing Marsh area.

Originally the State of Illinois had intentions of purchasing 1,900 acres in the area for a state park but ran out of funds.

Sullivan said that he would like to see a meeting between the property owners and those for open space with county officials listening in.

Administrator's position may be on Feb. 6 list

by GLORIA DAVIS

The trustees of the Antioch Village Board are still perusing the copy of the proposed ordinance creating the new appointed village position of village administrator handed out by Mayor Ray Toft at the last regular board meeting.

Village Clerk Marilyn Sterbenz has actually been doing that job for the over 20 years that she has been in that elected position. Sterbenz is due to retire sometime around May 1.

From that time on, the job of village clerk will be an appointed instead of an elected position, as it is in some other Lake County municipalities, paying a salary of $2,000 per year.

It's no secret that the present head of streets and sanitation, Tim Wells has been groomed for the position of the administrator, but if and when the ordinance creating the position is passed by the board, the mayor will appoint someone to that post with the approval of the village board.

Foremost celebrates 40

Drains Run Slow?

You'll never have a slow running, or clogged drain again! The secret? Clean drains don't run slow.

Slow drains, or periodic clogs, are SIGNALS that a thick layer of GOOK is choking your pipes. Grease, hair, and other waste sticks to your pipes, with every use. This gook deposits along the entire length of the pipe. It chokes your pipes gradually, as it gets thicker and thicker.

Conventional drain openers can't fix slow drains. They react chemically on the surface of the gook. To be effective, they must remain in contact with the waste. Even a small tunnel through the gook lets them flow out to the sewer, leaving the gook behind.

In the past, the only way to remove this build-up was to roter your pipes. But that's expensive, and often only a temporary help.

Now, with just a few minutes each month, you can easily clean out your pipes... and KEEP them clean with Plumb Clean. Its totally unique formula clings, and penetrates deep into the gook. That is what allows it to liquify even years of build-up. Plumb Clean will clean the entire length of your pipes. It will make your drains run like new, when used as directed. This penetrating action is so revolutionary, we stand behind Plumb Clean with a money-back guarantee!

Saves Money

A 1 lb. container of Plumb Clean holds up to 41 drain treatments. Even if drain openers could fix slow drains, you would have to buy over 10 quart bottles to get the same number of treatments. Plumb Clean costs about 35¢ per treatment. We don't know of anything that cleans drains for less.

Safe Too

Conventional drain openers are dangerous chemicals. They can injure eyes on contact. They can release deadly vapors, in some situations. Some, may damage your fixtures. Plumb Clean will not burn skin, or eyes. It will not release harmful fumes. When used as directed, it is 100% safe for people, and of course all plumbing.

So, if your drains are giving you a signal, act now. Start cleaning your drains the safe, effective, guaranteed way. Get Plumb Clean today!

Bigger bang for new bucks being planned

Lindenhurst is in the bucks! Thanks to a $5 increase for vehicle stickers last year, the village can buy some much-needed equipment. Sticker prices were boosted from $10 to $15 last spring. There is now one full year's collection. This has given the village an extra $25,000 to $30,000.

Additionally, prudent fiscal management has allowed the village to carry over $30,000 from last year. Fiscal experts recommend such sums equal three months of expenses to cover unexpected emergencies, Mayor Robert Ratch said.

Another $15,000 came from the developers of Waterford Commons in exchange for the village taking over a private street in the development on Grass Lake Rd.

Plans are being made to spend some of this money beginning early in 1989.

Replaced starting in a few months will be some of the four Dodge squad cars, three of them with more than 100,000 miles. Village Administrator calls them "dinosaurs" that get extremely low mileage.

One or two of the squad cars will be replaced at an estimated cost of $13,000 each with funds from the 1988 budget. Later in the year, two more cars will be purchased.

Rather than following the practice of turning one or two of the squad cars over to other village uses, Stevens is recommending purchase of multi-use vehicles. These will be used by the sewer and water departments, building inspector and, even, Stevens himself. He recommends Dodge Aires or Ford Escorts.

Recycled squad cars now used by himself and other departments are unsafe at almost any speed, Stevens said. They cannot be safely used outside of the village, mainly because of faulty front ends. He said repairs are costly, citing a $400 carburetor. The cars get six to eight miles per gallon.

Other purchases Stevens recommends are a one-ton dump truck for plowing cul-de sacs and a utility step van for use by the water department in repairing water meters and water-main breaks.

Also being considered is a $50,000 front-end loader.

Stevens is not recommending all purchases be made in 1989. He wants the village board thinking about these over the next several years, particularly during budget deliberations beginning each January.

The village board has yet to approve the purchases.

Library receives cassettes

Antioch Twp. Library announces the arrival of more than 100 hours of PBS programming, including "American Playhouse", "Fisnet Earth", "Nova", "The Jewel in the Crown", and Alistair Cooke's "America", on VHS videocassettes.

This award-winning collection was a gift from the John D. and Catherine T. MacArthur Foundation Library Video Classics Project—a nationwide project to make the tapes available to public libraries. Libraries from Portland, Maine, to Wasila, Alaska, are participating in the project.

A program guide to describe the offerings will accompany videos, and all series include complete public performance rights to allow in-library and community group showings.

WALKING THE GLOBE

If you were planning to walk around the world, you probably would see a podiatrist to correct minor problems before they turned into serious trouble.

The fact is that, depending on your age, you may already have walked a distance equivalent to hiking around the world. Even in the age of the auto, we walk more miles than most people realize. Moreover, it's only in relatively recent times that the human foot has had to adjust to day-in, day-out walking on paved sidewalks and other hard surfaces.

While some foot problems arise from heredity or injuries, many result from improper care of the feet. In too many cases, foot problems are neglected until they become so serious they can no longer be ignored. It makes sense to consult a podiatrist regularly, when treatment can help to keep you going on the next lap around the world.

Lotus to call on voters for tax rate increase

By DEBORAH NELSON

In an attempt to avoid a consolidation with Fox Lake Grade School Dist. 114, Lotus School Dist. 10 will call for an increase in its tax rate.

"It's either one or the other," Supt. A. F. Smejkal said.

The grade school is seeking a 60-cent tax rate increase, 59 cents for the education fund and 10 cents for the building fund, when the voters go to the polls April 4.

"We have a problem and it needs to be solved," Smejkal said, adding that consolidation is not a "dead issue."

The two schools have been discussing possible consolidation for the past several months.

Lotus Board President Marilyn Filiatreault points out, however, that "at this point, it will cost just as much to maintain Lotus as it would to consolidate."

"If the people vote the referendum down, that's not going to save them money," she said.

She continued, saying that if the school does not have the funds to operate, it will be "forced to consolidate."

"We're giving people the chance to keep their school in the community. People will either want to keep their school in their community, or Lotus will be forced to consolidate and a tax increase will go into the Fox Lake school district," she said.

Lotus' last tax rate increase was a 59-cent increase in the education fund in 1979.

Smejkal said the school's main problem is that its revenue is not keeping up with expenses.

Also, state mandates have been increasing while state funding has been decreasing, he said.

Currently, Lotus receives nine percent of its revenue from the state, four percent from the federal government and 80 percent from local sources.

"State aid has dropped $30,000 since 1979 even though student enrollment has increased," he said.

Smejkal then referred to a quote by Ted Sanders, Illinois' state superintendent of education.

Sanders said, "Adjusted for inflation over the last 10 years, Illinois has dropped from an impressive ranking of seventh to a shameful low of 44th among the states in per capita expenditures for elementary and secondary education."

In an effort to help Lotus with the referendum, John Kephart, president of the Lotus Council of the Illinois Federation of Teachers, plans to ask the union for a donation to help with printing costs.

Due to legal restrictions, the school is not allowed to use public funds for anything relating to the referendum, including the use of copying machines.

Support overwhelms Spring Grove mayor

by DEBORAH NELSON

Spring Grove President John Toler decided to withdraw his resignation and keep his seat as mayor after receiving "overwhelming" support from village officials and residents.

"I was impressed and overwhelmed with the quantity and quality of the people who responded to my resignation and asked me to reconsider," said Toler.

Last week, village board members unanimously approved a resolution requesting Toler to withdraw his resignation.

The resolution stated that the board members express their confidence and respect for the mayor's integrity and leadership ability.

Toler, who has served as Spring Grove president for the past eight years, said he resigned because he "disagreed very strongly" with the manner in which Trustee Bro D'Arcy, D'Arcy's father-in-law Mike Michaels and zoning board member Russ Chambers were conducting their campaign against the Pease-Tonyan annexation project.

In a letter of resignation, Toler had stated that "the ongoing behind the scenes misinformation campaign waged by D'Arcy, Michaels and Chambers has taken its toll on my family, business and me."

Toler said his family came first and he did not have to "put up with...the harassment."

He added that he did not object to people adopting opposite positions--"that's what village government is about"--, but he said he did not appreciate "the adverse impact" it had on his family.

Toler said, however, that his visit to California last week gave him "the opportunity to clear my head."

He said he decided, after the show of support and after talking with his family, that he would continue as president of the village.

"I discussed it with my family, and we discussed how we would deal with future village situations," he said.

In addition to Toler, candidates for the April election include incumbent Thelma Adomaitis for clerk, incumbents William King, Carol Kramer, William Rabelhofer and William Warner for trustee. Also running for trustee is independent Terry Jones.

Klemm urges students to apply for scholarships

State Rep. Dick Klemm (R-63rd) has announced that he is accepting applications for eight General Assembly scholarships. Any resident of the 63rd Dist. planning to enroll at one of the state universities is eligible to apply for the one year, tuition waiver scholarships.

"Awarding these scholarships is one of the pleasures of my job," said Klemm. "It's nice to know that I can, in some way, help a person from my district achieve a college education. And it's also nice to know that, with these scholarships, we encourage talented students to attend one of our Illinois Universities."

Klemm annually awards General Assembly scholarships to eight students from the 63rd Dist., after receiving recommendations from a select committee of school officials and interested community residents. Four scholarships are awarded to students planning to attend the University of Illinois, while the other four are awarded to students who plan to enroll at one of the other Illinois state universities. Applicants are judged on the basis of scholastic achievement and an essay on the subject, "Democracy in America, What It Means To Me." Selection is non-partisan, and although financial need is considered, it is not the sole basis for the awards.

Those interested in applying for one of the scholarships can pick up an application at Rep. Klemm's office, 3 W. Crystal Lake Ave., Crystal Lake. Applicants can also call Rep. Klemm's office (815) 455-6330, and an application will be mailed. Deadline for application is April 30. Winners are named in May.

Developer sees challenge in
problem tracts

by KIMBERLY BOLTON

When Roger Gatewood, owner of Westfield Development Corp. and Westfield Homes Inc., graduated from Purdue University in 1968, he thought making plans for his future would be futile. He assumed the U.S. Army would make them for him.

"When you graduated from school in '68 you figured you were going to go over to Vietnam and get shot," he said. "At that time, Vietnam was hot and heavy. It controlled people's decisions over what they were going to do," he added.

Luckily for Gatewood, the developer of single-family homes all over the Lakeland area, acceptance into The University of Chicago's MBA program prevented him from going to Vietnam and in 1973, he was able to begin his finance career as vice president of Continental Illinois Realty Advisors, Inc. and Continental Illinois Properties, Inc.

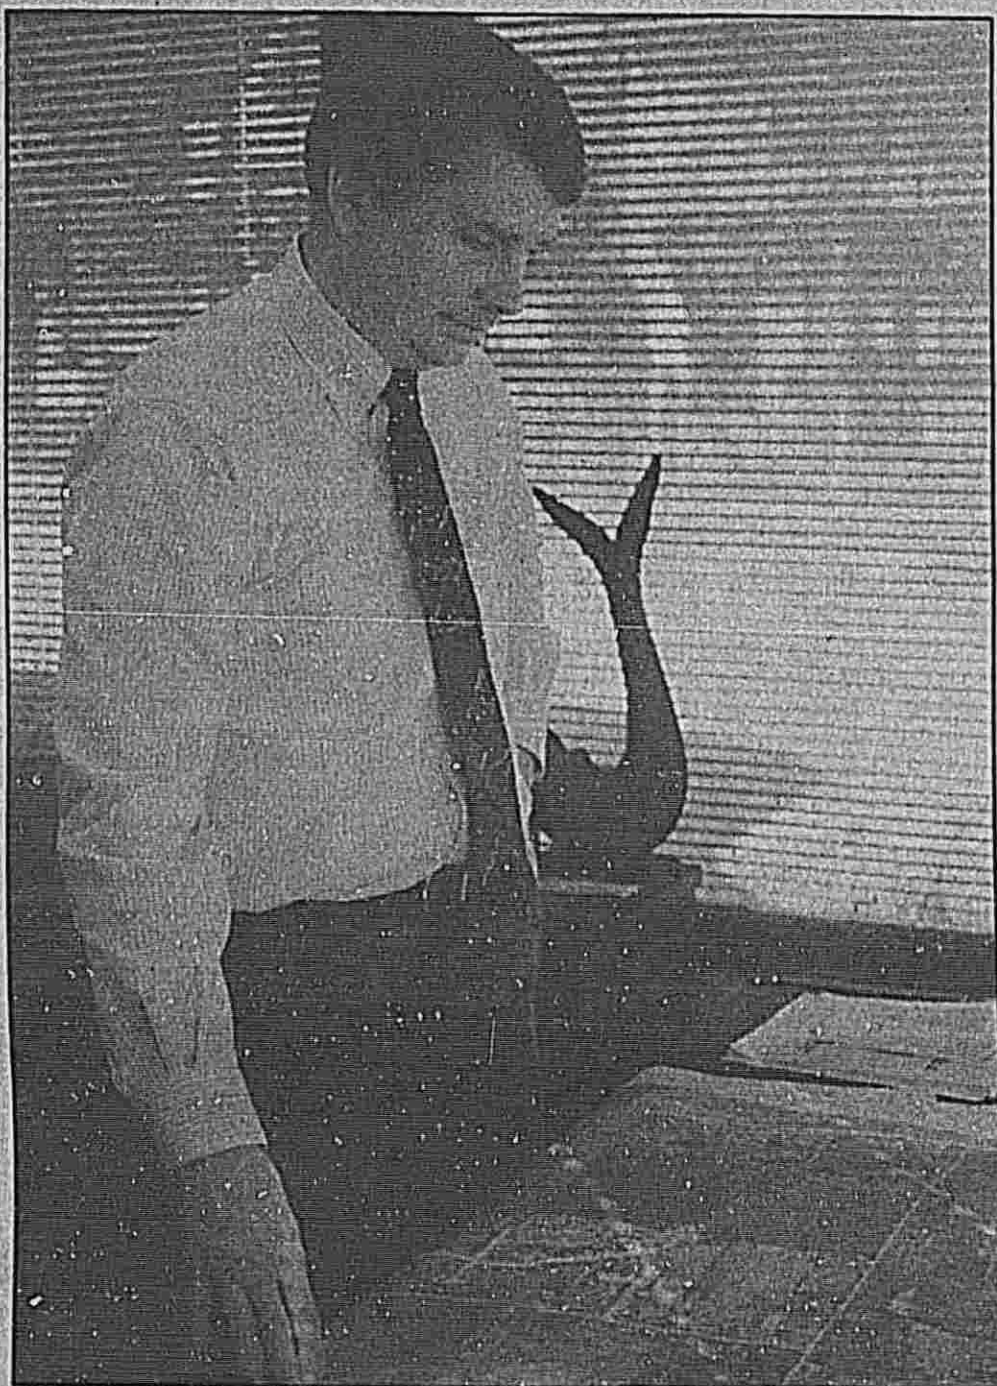

Based in Los Angeles, Gatewood was responsible for acquiring and managing income-producing properties like shopping centers, office and industrial buildings and apartment projects.

In 1978, he was transferred to Chicago to run the asset management division of Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust Co. It was there that he became involved with troubled real estate projects and in 1980, decided to use his experience to open a development corporation specializing in the takeover of problem real estate.

Gatewood's first project in 1980 was Pembroke in Gurnee. He chose Gurnee because of its access to the tollway and its good commercial and industrial base. Now, he says, it is an even better place to live now than it was in 1980.

"Gurnee improves with age," Gatewood said adding that it now has a new high school and an overall good school system.

In 1980, Pembroke consisted of only one small building of condominiums near Grand Ave. The tract of land purchased by Gatewood had been previously owned by two different, unsuccessful developers. Gatewood was able to build homes for approximately 300 families on the property in the form of coach homes, which are buildings housing eight single-family units, and single-family homes.

Development continues

Roger Gatewood has developed an extensive amount of area land into single-family properties. Pictured is Gatewood viewing plans for Southridge in Gurnee. —Photo by Tom Wolfe.

This week he celebrated his last closing in Pembroke.

Gatewood said when his corporation was being formed in the early '80s, most developers in the area were going under. The challenge of succeeding under that kind of pressure was stimulating for him.

"When we started from '80 to '82, two-thirds of the (development) companies went bankrupt in Chicago—that was pretty exciting," he said.

When choosing Lake County as the place to begin his business, Gatewood said he considered the economics of the area quite a bit. He saw many people leaving the area in the early '80s, but said "there's an inherent strength to this part of the country" and knew it wouldn't be long before the area was growing again. According to Gatewood, many small exporters in the area were doing really well when the dollar fell and he knew an increase in jobs would bring in residents.

Gatewood's next project was Saddle Hill Farms. Located off Buckley Rd. in Green Oaks, it consists of one-acre, single-family, luxury homes. It was almost completed when a condemnation suit was filed against Gatewood by the town of Libertyville charging that the homes, built on one-acre lots, are too close together.

Gatewood said people who wish to preserve Lake County are continually trying to block his projects. He says he is upfront about his plans from the project's start and sends a landplan to all municipalities, villages, school districts, library districts, the Army Corp. of Engineers, sewer districts, etc. which shows a layout of his project. Anyone who is not happy with it may then attend the appropriate meetings to voice their opinions.

Developer

According to Gatewood, he is usually able to satisfy all involved parties by doing such things as donating funds to the school systems, land to the park district and by setting aside land and trails to keep the project's setting natural.

"You have to respond to public demand," he said.

Gatewood's latest project, Southgate, is located at the intersection of Washington St. and Cemetery Rd. in Gurnee. It consists of luxury homes on half-acre lots surrounded by areas of smaller homes. Prices start at $120,000 and sales begin this weekend.

Gatewood, a resident of Lake Forest, says he understands that buying a first home is an emotional step people are reluctant to take. He actually "chickened out" of buying his first house just before the closing.

"It's a real big emotional step," he said. "It's hard to do."

The house was on beach front property in California and had a pricetag of $43,000 in 1973. The day after he talked the real estate agent into letting him out of the deal, the house went for $48,000. Gatewood bought a $36,000 home, and sold it a year later for $54,000. Two years after that, it was sold for $250,000 because beach front property was no longer available.

Gatewood sees less housing starts in Lake County in the 90s because of a change in demographics. He believes there will be fewer young people moving in and that the buyers will be at an older age where they are not looking for their first home. But, Gatewood hopes to be able to continue building in Lake County as well as on Florida's west coast.

Funeral costs explained

FTC rules affects funeral business

by KIM BOLTON

The Federal Trade Commission passed a law in 1984 requiring funeral directors to itemize their customer's bills. The new change has brought on mixed opinions from the government, the public and funeral directors, as well as incriminating articles from the press saying that funerals are overpriced and funeral directors are taking unfair advantage of customers.

The new "funeral rule" requires funeral directors to disclose the price of all services and merchandise, rather than give one package price. It also requires funeral directors to explain, in detail, what options are available to consumers when they are arranging a funeral—an expense that, according to Thomas Nelson of the American Association of Retired Persons, is the third highest one in the average person's life.

The Associated Press says it costs an average of $600 more today for a funeral than it did before the funeral rule and funeral directors agree that for their businesses, the new funeral rule was a good thing. But, that negative publicity such as that in a December issue of Money and a recent Associated Press article in the Chicago Tribune written as a result of new government regulations makes them look very bad.

David Strang, owner of Strang's Funeral Chapel in Grayslake says that the new itemization rule has helped to increase his profits. "This ruling has actually helped me," he said. He explained that now with itemization of bills, he must be able to account for every hour of his service and have the records to prove it. For example, before the ruling he may have allowed a family an extra hour of viewing as a gesture of goodwill. Now the government requires him to record that and the extra time adds $65 to the client's bill.

Bob Ringa, owner of Ringa's Funeral Home in Lake Villa, says that itemization is more advantageous to the consumers because it enables them to see everything they are paying for. With the package method he said funeral directors asked people what type of service they were looking for and then chose the closest corresponding service. But, he said, sometimes people did not ask for something that was included in the package and the fact that they were not taking all the services and the merchandise in their package was not "dwelled upon" by the director.

Debbie Glen of K.K. Hamsher Funeral Home in Fox Lake agrees with Ringa and says that the funeral rule was "a real good thing to happen for funeral homes."

"Before (the ruling), we took for granted the services we provided for our families as our grandfathers and our fathers did. Now, I can say we're more cognizant of what our costs are," Glen said. But, she explained that her funeral home is not always profiting from the new law. She said some people now buy only the basics which brings the cost way down.

Negative publicity arising from the attention given to funeral costs is upsetting to some directors. December's Money magazine says that the cost of funerals skyrockets when irresponsible funeral directors take advantage of people "at the worst possible time." They say "in the interest of expedience, they (the customers) make decisions that they may later regret."

A more recent article published in the Chicago Tribune says "in no other case is a consumer at a greater disadvantage" and that some funeral salesmen use tactics like saying, "I wouldn't bury my dog in this."

This type of negative publicity singling out a handful of con artists in an industry where businesses run through generations of families infuriates directors such as Ringa. He says he doesn't mind explaining where high costs of funerals come in but that there is much more to a funeral than money. "They don't say anything about the dignity of a funeral or bring the religious part of the funeral...There's no dignity at all—like you were going out to buy a used car," he said.

Ringa says people simply do not understand his business and that funeral directors have nothing to hide as far as money is concerned. He said he has never met a family who was so overcome with grief that they couldn't make a decision on what they wanted for their loved one.

According to Ringa, most people know exactly what they want before they come to him because funerals are usually dictated by religion, ancestry and upbringing.

"People buy according to their station in life, society and religion most of the time," Ringa said.

As far as consumers in the funeral market being at their most vulnerable time, funeral directors say that they are not trying to get people to spend more money than they can afford. In fact, they all agree that when people make rash decisions and plan to spend more than they can afford, they try to talk them out of it. They say allowing people to go beyond their means would hurt their business, which in most cases has been in the family for generations and depends on repeats.

Tim Gallagher of K.K. Hamsher Funeral Home said he'd never let a family overspend and expect to see them again as a customer. "Let's say you'd make an extra $200, you're going to lose 10 families for that," he said.

Ringa agrees. "Ninety-nine point nine percent of the time, I will not let people who do not have the means go out on a limb," he said.

"In a small town you have to be very cautious," Strang said. "If you jip them, you're in trouble," he said.

According to most funeral directors, the biggest problem for them is the fact that people don't understand why it costs so much to be put to rest. Strang explained that besides being on call 24 hours a day, 365 days a year, equipment used by funeral homes is extremely expensive because there is not a big demand for it.

Besides the furnishings in the viewing room such as kneeler and card stands, the equipment used in the preparation room is very costly, just as similar equipment is for a doctor or a hospital.

Dealing with death every day of their lives, working long hours and being the victims of bad press is a small price to pay for the satisfaction funeral directors get from helping people in a time of great need.

Ringa best summed up the reason all funeral directors gave for why they enjoy their jobs. "If I can make a funeral arrangement to the satisfaction of the family and have them feel relieved after I'm done, I've done my job with satisfaction and I feel good about that," he said.

Trade Rte. 53 for tax

Considering growth and development in this locality, plus accompanying traffic problems, there is a strong temptation to jump on the bandwagon of a call for state spending of $5 billion over the next five years to wipe out a backlog of major road and bridge repairs.

That figure has been called for by The Road Information Program (TRIP), representing highway construction firms. If the $5 billion could be earmarked for repairs of existing roads and bridges only the call might be supportable, but there also is reason to believe that money could be diverted to new construction. The extension of Rte. 53 comes to mind.

Voices already are being raised in favor of a gasoline tax to support highway needs, both real and supposed. Interestingly, federal authorities also are looking at a gasoline tax increase as a means of reducing the budget deficit.

State Rep. John S. Matijevich (D-Waukegan), a ranking House Majority member, is not jumping on the TRIP bandwagon. Matijevich points out that Illinois already is spending about $1 billion a year with existing revenues for the state's road program. He sees tampering with gasoline prices for whatever reason as highly inflationary and a threat to our nation's every expanding economy. We agree wholeheartedly.

Locally, one way to look at the whole question of highway needs and gasoline tax increase would be to bury the controversial and highly unpopular Rte. 53 plan forever and then attend to the future by upgrading existing thoroughfares. That's a trade that might find more than passing interest in this locality.

Eye new sanitary unit

Legislation is being drafted for introduction in the Illinois General Assembly of a bill to form a "super" regional sanitary district to serve northwest Lake County. The proposed district would replace the present Northwest Regional Sewer Service Area, a network of inter-governmental agreements forged in the 1970's to provide modern sanitation for the Fox Lake-Ingleside-Round Lake area and eliminate pollution of recreational lakes. Provisions were made for inclusion of Antioch and the Lake Villa area in the program at a time when local treatment facilities became inadequate. Some 15 years later, Antioch and Lake Villa have not yet phased out stand-alone sewage treatment works.

The original system, designed to serve beyond the year 2000, has been over loaded for several years. The treatment works, located in Fox Lake and owned by the Village of Fox Lake, is considered woefully inadequate to serve the needs of growth and meet modern water quality standards. Engineering studies are being made to remodel and expand the treatment facilities with cost estimates ranging from $6.7 million to more than $17.5 depending on capacity.

Impetus for the reorganization along the lines of the North Shore Sanitary Dist. is coming from Round Lake area village officials and directors of the non-operational, but still functioning Round Lake Sanitary Dist.

Legal and financial advisers of Round Lake officials say the super district is desirable from both operating and accounting viewpoints. Atty. Rudy Magna Jr. calls the present system of inter-governmental agreements "institutionally bad". Round Lake's interest in reorganization originally was triggered by irregularities discovered in treatment works operations conducted by the bungling and corrupt administration of former Fox Lake Mayor Richard "Butch" Hamm. That has been corrected now under the administration of Mayor William Dam, Round Lake officials acknowledge, but the system is fraught with inefficiencies, absence of checks and balances, and what Magna refers to as creation of "excess revenues" that accrue to the Lake County Public Works Dept. instead of being plowed back into the system to reduce costs. The county is involved as a "middle man" with ownership of sewage transmission lines.

Proposed legislation would provide for an elected board based on a system of local representation and an elected president. If approved by the Legislature, the district could come into being through a public referendum.

Formation of the super district is a mammoth undertaking, complicated by local jealousies, mountains of red tape involving operational data and things like rights of third party bond holders. Still, the Round Lake leaders are undaunted and are pushing forward. So far all parties except the county have adopted a resolution supporting a study of the proposed super district.

One of the more obvious discrepancies in the theory behind the super district is undue emphasis on the errands and irregularities of the network's early days. Those shortcomings have been corrected and the oversight committee created under the original agreements is functioning as anticipated. That, and the fact that the system is working, is evidence enough to recommend caution on forming another layer of powerful government with broad taxing powers.

As far as the voters of the proposed district are concerned, plans are in the infancy stage. To be sure, we want to hear a lot more about the super district and what it would do that isn't being done now.

Racing for No. 50

Everyone wants to get into the act, or so it seems as far as rowing your own boat goes in the village business. Now residents of Gilmer, a crossroads community in Ela Twp., are giving thought to incorporating as a village so they won't be swallowed up by Hawthorn Woods or Long Grove.

Last summer, residents of Volo inquired into the merits of establishing local government. It's easier said than done, as Gilmer folks undoubtedly are discovering. After protracted legal maneuverings, proposals to form the Village of Liberty Lakes in Lake Villa Twp. dissolved last fall in a sea of red tape and lawyers' fees.

You can't blame the Gilmer folks for wanting to preserve their identity. For many years, Gilmer was known mainly as the home of Zeman Brewery, one of the midwest's few operating independent breweries. When Gilmer lost its beverage landmark, so went a lot of local identity.

There still is keen interest, though, in who will become Lake County's 50th incorporated municipality. Right now, Volo and Gilmer are still in the race.

Office-seeking 'new breed' hits the stump

by BILL SCHROEDER

Please, no more jokes about village government being pot holes and police pay raises. Most of the candidates we're coming in contact with in connection with the coming spring elections are dead serious about grassroots politics, and they've got compelling agendas.

The new breed of office seeker for the village council is well educated, well informed and well organized.

Generally, the candidates are qualified and committed. They view the campaign as more than a popularity contest.

Raymond T. Semple typifies what we're talking about. Semple is an independent candidate for Mundelein village trustee. At this writing, we don't happen to know Semple. What's important at this juncture is how he is approaching the task of getting elected.

Employed as a regional sales representative for Mid American Title Co., Waukegan, Semple's job gets him around. He's produced a white paper on issues that's worth a second glance. Try these issues for size (we're using titles only because this is not an endorsement): open space, growth and development, Rte. 53, commuter rail line, recycling, full-time mayor and day care.

Semple studied public administration and urban studies at Elmhurst College. He's a member of the Mundelein Planning and Zoning Commission, and he's been involved in local politics. Semple has an interesting perspective of local government, working as a Mundelein Public Works Dept. employee four summers as a student and serving as an administrative intern in the village hall. He's a 1979 graduate of Mundelein High School.

Mundelein voters will hear from a candidate like this. Guaranteed.

Many of the candidates you'll be reading about and evaluating in the coming weeks are members of the Baby Boomer generation, "America's best and brightest," so it is said. It remains to be seen whether these candidates can translate their energies and agendas into votes.

We think it will be exciting watching them on the stump.

RETIRING—Fire Chief Sam Dada of Gurnee, who has friends and acquaintances in every corner of Lake County, is calling it quits. "After 41 years on the department, I figure it's time to step down," is the way Dada puts it. Sam knows where he's going when he hangs up his helmet and boots for the last time, for a 25-acre spot in Arkansas. "Lots of trees, lots of privacy and lots of fish," explains Sam. Dada is going to build a house and watch the world go by. "But I'll be in touch," he insists. "Gurnee still is home." The countdown is on for his retirement May 1.

GREAT SHOW—As word spreads, a big "welcome home" is being assured jazz legend Clark Terry as he returns to Lake County Tuesday, Feb. 21, as guest soloist with the Woody Herman Band appearing at North Chicago High School. Clark performed locally during World War II while stationed at Great Lakes Naval Training Center. Tickets are only $10 each, with proceeds going to the North Chicago Elementary School music department. "What a bargain," exclaimed Bill Clark, director of the grade school musicians. "That's the price of parking alone if you were to see the same show in Chicago."

Letters To The Editor

Plan needs thought

Editor:

I am appalled and angry at how Ryerson Forest Preserve is planning to reduce the deer population. Ten years ago there was probably 20 at most. Wasn't it known then that deer multiply?

With the special feeding place to entice the deer, who will be the brave sportsman to pull the trigger?

The amount of fauna deer destroy is minimal. That's how the deer survive. Deer can be moved to a place in the wild.

Having lived close to wild life in northern Ontario, I know about controlled hunting and natural predators like the wolf.

The population plan should be given more thought.

Union bails out school

Editor:

The St. Louis school district is supposedly financially strapped. So the teacher's union offered to bail them out with a loan!

The union must now have more of the taxpayer's dollars than the school district does. Or to put it another way, the taxpayer takes money out of savings and loses interest in order to pay the property tax bill.

The union eventually winds up with it, through salary increases and dues, and loans it back. Where will it ever end?

Self-appointed dictators

Editor:

We now have two self appointed dictators. Rostenkowski (Democrat) in the Congress. Bentsen (Democrat) in the Senate. Both stand in defiance of other legislators, media recommendations and senior citizens calling for the repeal of the catastrophic Health Bill. Thank God we don't have a Democrat in the White House too! But we'll keep writing to voice our demands to be heard.

Save the open land

Editor:

The Antioch Village Board on Friday, Jan. 20, held a meeting to accept petitions for annexation by owners of more than half of the Redwing Marsh and Deer Lake area in an attempt to stop the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. from saving this picturesque landscape. In its place, they would like to see housing and business developments.

With 91.3 percent of Illinois wetlands gone, we cannot afford to lose more wetlands. Nineteen animals and 69 plants on the endangered or threatened species list live exclusively in wetland areas. Biologists say that wetlands are some of the most productive sources of plant and animal life on earth.

Some of the benefits of saving Redwing Marsh, Deer Lake, area and wetlands in general are extra storage for flood waters, increased water quality, (Continued on opposite page)

Proposed land grab killed by Forest Preserve board

by JOE WINTER

The board of the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. voted unanimously at an emergency meeting not to acquire the Redwing Marsh/Deer Lake area, which had been proposed for acquisition.

On Wednesday afternoon, it was announced, the district would dismiss a lawsuit which involved their portion of an injunction. The injunction had prohibited both the Village of Antioch and the district from taking acquisition actions involving another 1,450 acres of property. This parcel is being sought by the village for annexation, as has been requested by landowners via a petition.

A full house observed the proceedings, often applauding when commissioners stated property should not be taken away from landowners. When part of the contingent of the property owners rode the elevator from the county board room to the ground floor of the courthouse, one of the women remarked to her colleagues: "That goes to show you what a show of force can do. They never, ever expected that kind of a reception."

Following the special meeting, after the role call vote for the sole agenda item was taken, some commissioners called for adjournment, even though several observers had expressed a desire to speak. A role call vote for adjournment received only seven "ayes." However, most of those in the gallery passed on their opportunity to speak when it was given.

The question was raised before the meeting's discussion began as to whether their attorney should give a legal opinion before the role call was taken. Commissioners decided not to hear this information at the start of the meeting, as calls by commissioners to take the vote filled the chambers. At the close of the meeting, commissioners voted to adjourn rather than have a reading of a legal opinion involving the injunction.

Many commissioners stated that they thought rejecting the acquisition was a mistake, but since members of the public wanted it this way, that was the way they would vote.

Supv. F.T. "Mike" Graham, who had proposed the acquisition, said at the close of the unanimous vote: "A few landowners won today, but the public lost." He concurred with those voting to reject the acquisition with "a tearful aye."

Graham said during discussion that the district does not have the right to "grab away people's property." Supv. Matthew Miholic claimed this statement was different from previous ones he had heard. "I am glad that the people of Lake County can finally see the way the Forest Preserve can operate. They can operate for the people, or they can operate on their own." Miholic said, Land should not be condemned to gain acquisitions, he said, but that which should be purchased is that not already in use.

Many people living in the area of the proposed acquisition do not want their land taken over by the Forest Preserve Dist., "but I hope they are not the same people to be the first to come forward when developers offer top dollar," said Supv. Bruce Hansen. "As far as developers are concerned, there is no unbuildable land," he said in describing wetland areas.

"This is going to be costly, not only to the Village of Antioch, but to the Forest Preserve," said Supv. James Fields.

developers and land speculators. He feels DuPage and Lake County, particularly Libertyville Twp., are doing an excellent job of preserving part of today's landscape. He noted the job is far from done.

"There is a plan," Fox said about the seemingly gerrymandered land acquisitions. These are structured to someday build a uniform package of nature preserves and parklands. difference between the two, Fox noted, is that nature preserves are precisely that where people can relax surrounded by the beauty of nature. Parkland allows for ball fields, tennis courts, volleyball nets and the like.

Tying the land packages together is a series of greenways. These are power line and abandoned railroad right of ways and along waterways. "This is the present gap in the overall design," Fox admitted of the missing green belts. "Greenways will make it possible to hike, bike or snowmobile from one area to another."

Competition for this seemingly idle land is fierce, Fox said. Today it comes from the cable and telephone companies. Tomorrow it will be from those who want to lay fiber-optic cables.

"Most land acquisitions are tough," Fox said, "especially in Lake County where costs are climbing out of sight." He admitted it will not be entirely possible to acquire all lands and greenways targeted in the master plan.

"But if you don't dream big dreams nothing ever gets done," Fox added.

An example he cited is the former Aurora Railroad right of way from Joliet to Chicago Heights. The abandoned property was returned to 7,400 adjoining property owners. Through persistence and negotiation with these owners, 14 communities and two park districts the land is in the process of being acquired with $1,200,000 in state funds. "All of us were willing to put Humpty Dumpty back together again," Fox said of the eight-year undertaking.

Some negotiations take so long prices escalate and opportunities for purchase disappear, Fox said. "In those cases we have to swallow our pride and start over again."

Open Lands Project purchases property only in rare cases where others cannot and holds it for a short time before transferring ownership. Funding comes from a variety of sources such as corporate sponsorship and individual memberships by the public. Examples of business patrons are Walgreen's, Commonwealth Edison Co., Chicago Title Insurance Co., J. C. Penny Co. and R.R. McCormick Charitable Trust.

However, it does receive land donations and holds easements to block developers. A nearby example is the six-mile, 165 acre Nippersink Trail in McHenry County.

Open Lands Project is constantly taking on developers, realtors and land owners. The same is true of the state legislature. In last summer's session it successfully stopped an effort to ban future forest preserve districts or shackle the one in Libertyville.

Fox had high praise for the open-space work being done in Lake County and Libertyville Twp. "We are working together toward a healthier environment and improved quality of life," he said.

Film Review

If one is to give a film a four-star rating for pure adult enjoyment, then "Working Girl" is one of the latest releases that should get all four gold ones.

It's fast moving, funny, and Melanie Griffith is a pure delight, combining just the right touches of sweetness and sex appeal in her version of the title role.

Harrison Ford does a good job as the male counterpart who is just plain confused by all the female antics most of the time, but his role could probably have been played just as well by Tom Selleck, Ted Danson, Bruce Willis or many other of today's screen heartthrobs.

Sigourney Weaver, of "Alien" and "Apes" fame, plays a strong villainess and though there are probably many theoretical holes in the plot, the oft-overdone poor beleaguered "women in the male chauvinist business world" storyline plays well here.

Weaver steals the scene where Griffith and Ford are about to make a big deal when she storms into the conference room, complete with crutch, cast and witchy screaming!

But Griffith emerges a star as she steals this one (no wonder Don Johnson is back!) as she plays the smart, underestimated secretary turned tycoon with aplomb.

Stage

Opening on Feb. 13 and running through April 1 is the famed children's fairytale "Rumpelstiltskin," at Marriott Lincolnshire's Theater For Young Audiences. This will be a music-participation version of the classic fairytale, playing most Tuesdays and Fridays at 10 a.m., Saturdays at 11 a.m., Monday, Feb. 13 at 1 p.m.; Monday, March 6, at 10 a.m. and 1 p.m.; Friday, March 24, at 11 a.m. and Saturday, April 1, at 1 p.m.

The Goodman Theatre in Chicago continues its 1988-89 season with Aphra Behn's lusty Restoration comedy, "The Rover," running March 6 through April 1. Kyle Donnelly makes her Goodman directing debut with this epic swash-buckler.

Musical Notes

The Concert Royal will be on stage at the Woodstock Opera House in Woodstock on Saturday, Feb. 25, performing with the New York Baroque Dance Company.

Speaking of dancing, come dance your heart out, meeting old and new friends, as the Lake County Family YMCA, Waukegan, sponsors a Ground Hogs/Valentine's Day Dance from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., on Friday, Feb. 3, at the "Y" on Western Ave.

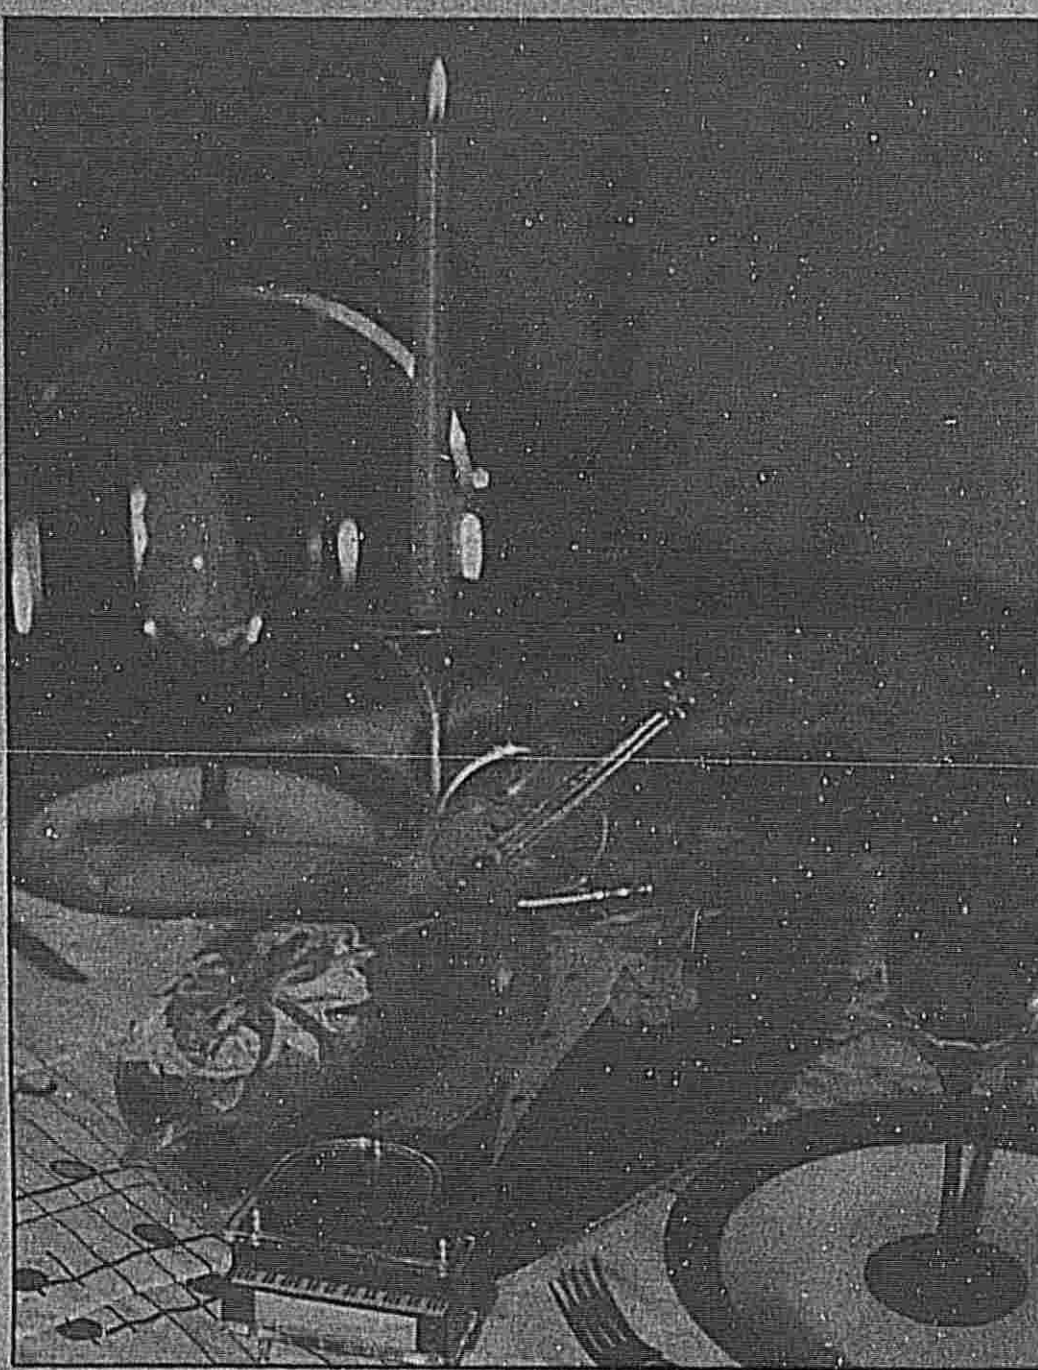

Dance prizes will be offered to all area junior high school students

Be there!

At LeVichyssois, French country restaurant in Lilymoor, from now until we get more wintry weather, we'll see the truffle season coincide with what American farmers are turning out in this the peak growing season.

On Sunday, Feb. 12, an antique and auction sale is slated to be held at the Lake County Fairgrounds in Grayslake, from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Don't forget Carmel High School's "Street Scenes," with 12 stage productions, music, good food and drink on tap this Friday and Saturday.

Sweethearts' dinner

Fixing up one's own 'Sweethearts' table for that special dinner for two on Tuesday, Feb. 14 can be comparatively easy. Just be sure red or pink are the main colors. ## Saying 'Be my Valentine' with class

by GLORIA DAVIS

If one's love (and checkbook) knows no end, the Oak Brook Hills Hotel in Oak Brook is offering the ultimate in Valentine's Day weekends, Feb. 10, 11, 12 for only --- $7,000.

Wait all you guys, stop running a minute and see just what one gets for this mere pittance.

Included in this specially designed Valentine's package are: a Rolls Royce limousine to pick up guests and return them home, two nights in the hotel's Presidential Suite, the height of luxury in accommodations.

In the suite m'lady will find a dozen red roses in a Waterford vase, and a chilled bottle of Dom Perignon will be waiting for the couple upon their arrival.

Add a gourmet dinner for two served in the suite complete with strolling violinists.

After dinner, what could be more romantic than a surrey ride through the hotel's 150-acre grounds?

There will also be a few little extras like the luxurious mink coat to be provided by York Furrier's of Elmhurst and monogrammed his and hers silk robes and king size sheets.

For those who find their bank accounts just a bit short now that tax time approaches, the Oak Brook Hills is also offering a Valentine's weekend for two of the less fortunate for $79 that calls for a chilled split of champagne and Godiva chocolates in the room with special turn-down service, a complimentary rose for madame and the lavish Valentine's brunch on Sunday.

Or maybe celebrating just "That Special Evening" at the Oak Brook Hills will do the trick of saying "Let Me Call You Sweetheart." This includes a one-night escape on Friday, dinner for two and breakfast on Saturday morning or Sunday brunch.

There are lots of ways to ask that special someone to "Be my Valentine," or else to reassure one that has already committed themselves that they are still No. 1.

For those that find a private intimate dinner for two to their taste, whether it's at his or her apartment, or at home after the kids are tucked in or gone out for the evening (depending on the kids age a couple is in), setting-up a special table as in the picture above and serving a favorite entree and wine followed by some special kissing and hugging can be the perfect plan for Tuesday evening, Feb. 14.

For those who prefer dining out at their favorite restaurant, many area ones are running Valentine's Day specials.

Although Valentine's days that fall closer to the week-end than this year's, which comes on a Tuesday, are bigger nights-out, it's probably still a good idea to make any reservations early.

At Andres Steakhouse on Rte. 12 in Richmond they go a little further, offering dinner for two with champagne and an overnight at the new Day's Inn close-by for $75 per couple. Call (815)678-2671 for reservations.

At Dante's Restaurant outside of Antioch, why not try a "Cheek to Cheek" Valentine's special which includes two butt steaks, a 16-ounce lobster and a bottle of champagne for $49.95. Call (312)395-9393 for reservations.

At Johnny D's on Rte. 83 in Grayslake you and your better half can enjoy surf and turf plus a red carnation for all the ladies for $15.95 on Feb. 14.

At the Pier Place in Fox Lake $29.95 will get a romantic couple prime rib for two, dessert, wine or champagne, plus a before dinner treat.

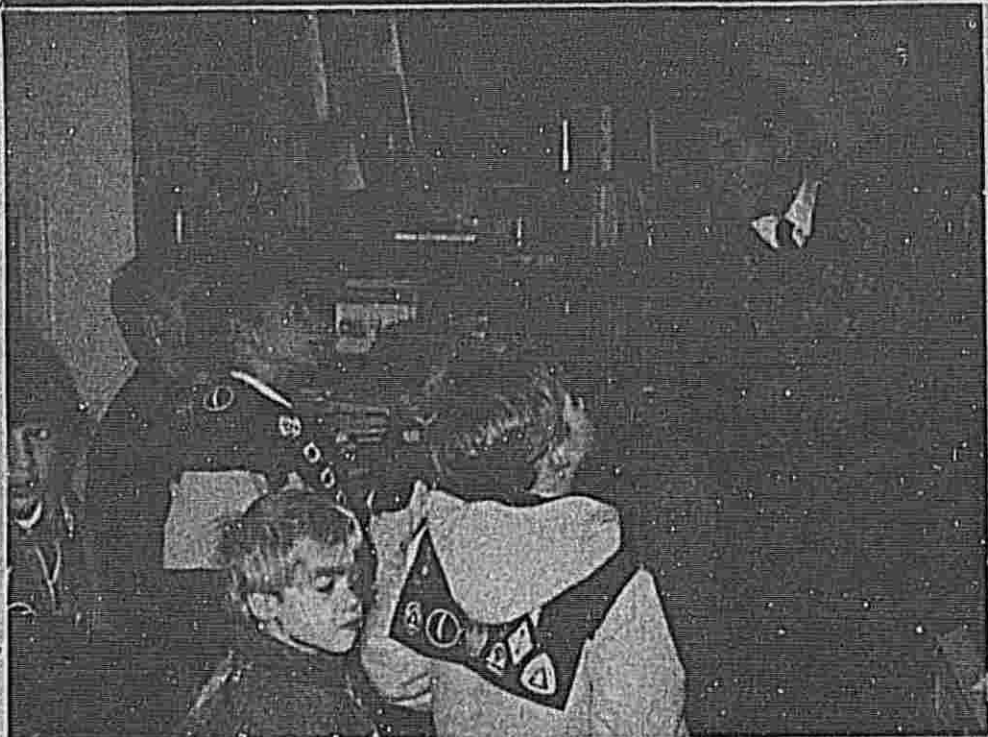

Home Federal Bank for Savings, with branch offices in Fox Lake, Grayslake, Lindenhurst, Round Lake Beach and Lake Zurich, is offering a Valentine's evening of dining and entertainment on Sunday Feb. 12, at the Sabre Room in Hickory Hills.

The evening's show is entitled "Sweethearts on Parade," featuring the Sabrettes, a professional dance chorus, etc. The cost of the trip, including deluxe motorcoach transportation is $35 per person. Call Dale Craig at (312)244-0880.

For the less materialistic, area hospitals are offering the gift of health as a gift to your loved one like having a mammogram taken or a cholesterol test to insure a healthy heart with which to love them.

What's Happening

'Long Awaited'

Bessie Skunk Ferguson, played by Mary Ann Thebus, stops confrontation between her son Bob, right, played by Chuck Hall, and Sgt. Marvin Kemp, played by Ned Schmidtke, in 'The Long Awaited.'

Critics Choice

'Awaited' lightweight

by TOM WITOM

If President Bush's prescription for a kinder, gentler world included plays, "The Long Awaited", receiving its world premiere at Chicago's Victory Gardens, would certainly fill the bill.

Claudia Allen presents a soft, warm and very light comedy, a good example of art imitating life.

Set in the 70s in a small town in Michigan, the play takes place in the Ferguson living room, which has been converted into a sick bay.

Bessie Ferguson, a divorcee, has subjugated her personal ambitions to care for her bedridden and dying mother. It's a full-time assignment, totally consuming, and she gets minimal assistance from her son. The equation is modified when romance enters the picture.

Marvin Kemp, a military man who had spent decades pursuing Bessie's AWOL brother Vernon, shows genuine empathy for Bessie's situation, having nursed his late spouse during her final days.

Nancy Lollar, as Winifred Skunk, the disoriented and fast-failing mother, has little to say, but her performance as someone on the brink of death is convincing.

Mary Ann Thebus knows what she has to do and does it as Bessie, and Ned Schmidtke, the retired sergeant, exemplifies the man who sometimes finds it easier to express himself in deeds than words.

Some of the best lines go to Bob O'Donnell as Vernon Skunk, the long-absent brother, who apparently makes the most of them.

Rounding out the cast are Chuck Hall as Bob Ferguson and Meg Thalken as Arvilla Kemp. Sandy Shinner provides direction for this touching, albeit lightweight, comedy which runs through March 5.

Hawaii for the adventurer

by JIM WARNKEN, PRESIDENT
NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

For many, thoughts of the Hawaiian Islands conjure up visions of lazy days of lounging under a palm tree on a white sand beach with only the sound of gentle ocean waves.

Well, Hawaii can certainly be that if you wish. But for the more adventurous, the islands offer challenges ranging from beginner to expert. Here are a few of my favorites.

In the expert category, try skiing (yes, snow skiing) down a 13,796-foot volcano! The "Ski Shop Hawaii" will provide you with the necessary equipment and clothing and transport you by four-wheel drive transport to the top of Mauna Kea (white mountain) on the big island of Hawaii for a five-mile untracked run. Contact them at P.O. Box 8232, Honolulu, HI 96830-8232, for more information.

Less challenging, but no less exciting is a trip by Zodiac (ocean-going rubber rafts) to the astonishingly beautiful Na Pali Cliffs on the island of Kauai. After a voyage which includes crashing headlong into waves curling along the cliffs, you will arrive at one of many secluded beaches inaccessible by land. Contact Na Pali Zodiac at Box, 456, Hanalei, HI 96741.

How about a guided, week-long adventure of backpacking around Maui or Kauai with a world-famous author and outdoorsman? You should be able to hike six to ten miles a day and be in good health. Contact Hawaiian Outdoor Adventures at P.O. Box 30697, Long Beach, CA 90853.

Whale-watching, anyone? Ocean Riders, Inc., uses rigid-hulled inflatable Avon sea-riders which, unlike the larger whale-watching boats, allows passengers to get right up to the whales. Contact Ocean Riders at (808)661-3586.

Your travel agent can, of course, help you plan these and other Hawaiian adventures.

If you want to relax on the beach, more power to you. But for those seeking a little adventure, try Hawaii's rugged side.

Just For Seniors

Winners say, "It may be difficult, but it's possible." Losers say, "It may be possible, but it's too difficult." Winners always have a plan. Losers always have an excuse. Winners see an answer for every problem. Losers see a problem in every answer. That's why winners are always part of the answer, and losers are always part of the problem.

Did you know that depression in older people often presents symptoms almost identical to dementia; because of misdiagnosis, many people are deprived of the treatment that could lift the depression.

Lakeland's June 10 cruise to be etched in memories

by DENNIS and MARY O'BRIEN
Readers of the Lakeland Newspapers who choose to become a part of the exciting June 10 cruise to four exotic

Caribbean destinations will spend seven days aboard a floating palace.
It's true. Getting there - and there, there and there is half the fun aboard the luxurious 700-foot-long S.S. Riviera. She is a big ship, with a gross tonnage of 31,500 tons. Her displacement and wide 94 foot beam give her great stability for smooth cruising through the tranquil Caribbean seas. She has a crew of 500 skilled officers and crew who cater to the whims of about 480 happy cruisers.

In truth, she is a floating luxury resort with spacious, beautifully appointed cabins, elegant dining room, night club, casino, bars, shops, movie theater, health club, swimming pool, and an endless round of activities ranging from skeet shooting off the quarter deck to jogging on the teak running track.

There's something to do every minute of the day and night - if one is so inclined. There are friendly encounters in one of the lounges, poolside card games, aerobics classes, basketball and other sports.

Or to drop down a gear or two, there are three jacuzzis on the Sports Deck and a massage in the health club. Read a good book curled up in a deck chair, or have a good sun soak at poolside. One can order a pina colada or a slice of pizza without moving an inch. Do nothing, or do everything. The choice is theirs.

And the Riviera, largest and proudest of the famous Costa Line delivers its pleasures with a distinctly Italian flair. Cruise directors, blackjack dealers, cabin stewards, and even the ship's doctor who is famous for his dancing of the Tarantella when the big band music in the dining room shifts to a Latin beat, are Italians who are proud of their traditions.

Who knows better how to throw a party, serve a souffle, decant a wine from a fine Italian vineyard, or elegantly attend passengers in their cabins?

From the moment one boards the ship to exciting, sun-filled days in tropical ports and romantic nights under starry skies, the Lakeland Newspapers odyssey on the S.S. Riviera will be etched forever in memory.

Soloist with Herd

Trumpeter Clark Terry, former member of Woody Herman Orchestra, will be guest soloist when present day Woody Herman Orchestra appears at North Chicago High School at reunion-homecoming concert fundraiser on Tuesday, Feb. 21, benefits to go to North Chicago Elementary Grade School Band Parents. Tickets are available through Lakeland Newspapers.

African dance in Lake County

Victor Clottery, founding member of National Dance Ensemble of Ghana and ATIBA, will present special children's program on African dance and music called "Dances of West Africa" at Libertyville High School Studio theatre, at 2 p.m., on Sunday, Feb. 11.

Players spoof monster films

The Kirk Players will once again be part of the highly entertaining "happening" known as Street Scenes Variations. This annual fundraiser is a full evening of cabaret-type shows and lounge-acts tied together by a central theme.

This year's theme is "Street Scenes Spoofs the Classics" and it happens on Friday and Saturday, Feb. 3 and 4. One of the 12 featured 20 minutes shows running simultaneously and continuously throughout the evenings from 7 pm. until 1 a.m. will be the Kirk Players' spoof of the horror/monster movie classics called "Corn on the Macabre, Part III".

Bold and daring, the original script goes where no script has gone before - uncovering untold truths about Frankenstein (Stu Armstrong of Gurnee), Dracula (Tom Schrimpf of Mundelein), the Mummy (Dawn Benjamin of Mundelein), The Phantom of the Opera (Angela Gregory of Mundelein) and other maligned horror heroes.

The sexy Elvira (Carol Marie Fischesser of Libertyville) and the weird Igor (Bob Thomas of Barrington) will guide the audience through five famous tales: "Curse of the Mummy," "Phantom of the Opera," "House of Frankenstein," "Mr. Hyde & Dr. Jekyll" (with Mundelein's Ott Greene and Paula Willems) and "Nightmare on Elm Street on Halloween When It Falls On Friday the 13th, Part 812" (starring Floyd Baker of Vernon Hills and Jeff Lynn and Rick Aker of Mundelein as Freddie, Jason and Michael).

Kirk Player newcomer, Debbie Mieszala and Kirk veteran Jesse Becker (both of Mundelein) will also be on hand to help with the fun. Thom Koch, Jr. (also of Mundelein) will do the commercials for the room sponsors, Barrington Volvo and McDonalds Restaurants of Libertyville, Mundelein and Vernon Hills.

The Kirk Players recommend everyone gets there early (doors open at 6:30 p.m.) and make a full evening of it. They suggest people conclude the evening with breakfast (beginning at 12:30 a.m.) and urge everyone to have an extra cup of coffee - for the road.

Politically Speaking

by JOSEPH SOULAK

There are lots of women serving as mayors in Lake County—seven to be exact. Like Verna Clayton of Buffalo Grove, Elaine Palmer of Green Oaks, Nancy Smith of Lake Barrington, Joyce Frayer of Lake Villa, Pacita Morrison of Lakemoor, Evelyn Cooper of Lincolnshire and Virginia Kennedy of Park City.

There could be a few more following the April election.

Among the women who have tossed their hat into the ring this spring are all of the incumbents plus some hopefuls. They are Anna Markley Bush in Barrington, Sheila Stanger in Deerfield, Margaret Paull in Fox Lake, Melinda Willen in Grayslake, incumbent Smith in Lake Barrington, incumbent Frayer in Lake Villa, incumbent Morrison in Lakemoor, incumbent Kennedy in Park City, and Madelene Romich and Sandra Morris in Round Lake Heights.

*****

Robert Streicher is mad. He is mad enough to sue the county that employs him as director of the Building and Zoning Dept.

Streicher wants to build a luxury home in Ishnala Estates outside Lake Villa. The plans are drawn, the builder is ready, but....

The Lake County Health Dept. won't issue a permit for the oversize luxury house. There isn't enough room on the one-acre lot for a septic tank plus a 100 percent expansion field. The denial is based on square footage of the home.

Colin Thacker, the man in charge of enforcing the regulations for the Health Dept., says the law is the law.

Streicher thinks it stinks!

Don't forget the annual Lincoln Day dinner sponsored by the Grant Twp. Republican Club. It will be Saturday, Feb. 11, at Maravella's, 4 S. Washington St., Ingleside. Cocktails are at 6 p.m., prime rib dinner at 7 p.m., followed by speaker Jeffrey R. Ladd, chairman of the METRA board, and dancing after that. Tickets at $16 per person can be obtained by calling GOP Club Chairman Gordon Kiesgen at (312)587-0371.

Kiesgen, that's a good German name. It and a good handshake in Grant Twp. are likely to get you introduced to a politician/public servant by the same name.

For openers, there is the charming Charlotte Kiesgen. She is the County Board representative for the past two years from Dist. 4. After working in the township office for 11 years, Kiesgen was picked by voters to succeed Donna Mac Litweiler when she ran for county clerk.

Charlotte's husband is Jack Kiesgen, township road commissioner for 10 years and assistant commissioner before that. He was appointed to succeed the late Jack Smith and is now running for his third term this April.

Older brother, Gordon, is township clerk and has been since before Charlotte and Jack were married 23 years ago.

The only Kiesgen not involved in the political world is Don. He works for the Lake County Public Service Dept. He is the true public servant in the family and a great basketball fan at games of Grant High School and College of Lake County where his children play.

"All of this makes for some interesting family dinners," Charlotte said about Kiesgen clan get-togethers two or three times a year. "The interesting thing about all of this is that our jobs just evolved." The office sought the man (or woman, in her case) and not the other way around.

If anyone can sympathize with the Rte. 53 foes it is Mayor Henry Paulus of Lake Zurich.

First, he lives only one block from busy Rte. 12. "When people talk traffic I know what they mean," he said. "When I came here in 1954 Lake Zurich had 1,300 people." Today there are 13,500 and the traffic to go with it.

"I know where these people are coming from with their concerns about this highway and more traffic," the mayor of 20 years said.

Lake Zurich is on record as favoring the 17-mile behemoth through the center of Lake County. "For my part I'd also like to see Rte. 83 and Rte. 12 improved," added the mayor, who will step down at the end of his current term.

Planners and some of the so-called experts involved in making Lake County a better place to live have a 1920's mentality, says Libertyville Twp. Sup. F.T. Mike Graham. "This is particularly true of highways," he says. "When you build a new highway every available piece of land within 5 to 10 miles on either side is developed."

Open-space champion of Lake County, Graham & Co. believe it is better to buy land for forest preserve purposes and keep the developers out. "It's cheaper," he said of not paying for new schools, sewer, water, parks or highways.

For every new home built, Graham said, 10 additional daily auto trips are generated. An apartment means six more auto trips and a condo leads to an additional five.

*****

Talking about highways and Rte. 53, Forest Preserve Dist. Chairman C. Richard Anderson of North Barrington has some highway reservations of his own.

"How come the state can't find money for a traffic light on busy Rte. 22," he asks, "but can come up with $300-million for a new highway?"

ground water recharging and providing biological diversity.

In time, a very short time, the farms will be gone and subdivisions and shopping centers will stand in their place. The land we set aside now is all that will be left of this open country. It would be a hardhearted person who couldn't feel something seeing the countryside, especially at sunrise or sunset. I think we owe it to ourselves and our future generations to save as much of the open land as we can. The Redwing Marsh and Deer Lake area is one such place that deserves to be saved.

It would be a great disservice to the people of Lake County if the Antioch Village Board went ahead with its plans to annex the Redwing Marsh and Deer Lake area.

School survival at stake

Editor:

Why do the schools have to go completely to pot before taxpayers will vote to increase their funding? Where is it written that "it's good enough" covers all educational needs for children in 1989?

What is immoral about re-running a tax referendum in February that almost passed last November?

What is politically intriguing about school officials who place a school referendum in a November general election, knowing full well that it will work against the passage of the referendum, because general elections bring out reams of people who routinely vote NO against any and all tax referendums regardless of the merit or circumstance or need? The only political motive here was desperation, because the schools could not do their duty to the children and the taxpayers who support the schools to wait even one more day to try and pass the referendum.

So they tried, and as predicted, it failed. So Howard Sturm figures that it is over and done with for this century. And now it is a lesson in immorality to our children to run it again to try and keep our schools out of the deep deficit they are heading into? Think again, and explain to my kids why they don't have books, why their class size is growing, why they may be holding class in the gym next year, why their curriculum is slashed and outdated and why there are so few supervising adults, and so many overworked teachers. What kind of a lesson do you think that will teach them about the adults who are entrusted with their education that will form their future?

Education in the State of Illinois is becoming a disgrace. We can't raise the state income tax so state spending in education has put Illinois sixth from the bottom of the 50 states. And we can't make up for the financial loss with our property taxes because of people like Sturm. Now, just exactly, how do you expect these schools to survive?

Geo-Karis to chair food drive

Adeline J. Geo-Karis, (R-Zion), mayor of the city of Zion, has been named honorary chairman of the 1989 All Lake County Food Drive.

Senator Geo-Karis is a strong proponent of the family and has successfully sponsored and supported bills for strong crime control and aiding senior citizens, youth, and the disabled and the working majority.

"I am pleased to be the honorary chairman of the food drive for the less fortunate in Lake County, and I commend Lake County Food Resource Council for their efforts to help others," said Geo-Karis.

To help county residents become more aware of the hunger problem, Norm Geary, Lake County Board Chairman, will declare March 11 to 18 "Lake County Hunger Awareness Week." During this week, county residents will be asked to donate canned goods which will be divided among county food pantries, soup kitchens and emergency food providers to replenish supplies depleted over the winter. The food will also be used for Easter "baskets" for agencies that distribute them.

The drive is being sponsored by the Lake County Food Resource Council, WKRS, and the Cooperative Extension Service. The Food Resource Council is a non-profit coalition of volunteers from over 70 agencies that provide food and services to families in Lake County.

Those wishing to help with the food drive should call Barbara Dahl, president of the Food Resource Council, at (312)223-8627.

WWI veteran, Harold Blackwell dies at 95

by VIRGINIA KRUEGER

As a young man in his early twenties, Harold Blackwell was assigned to a machine gun battalion with the French Army under General Gouard. Later he was returned to the U.S. Army for the St. Mehiel Drive in France. In September of 1918 Blackwell was wounded when shrapnel went through his helmet, cutting his scalp open. Medics shaved his head, sewed up the wound and returned him to the front lines since they needed machine gunners.

In October of 1918 Blackwell was sent to the Champaign Sector, where he was once again wounded. This time, machine gun bullets went through his left leg. He was taken to the base camp, where he was given a chair to sit on and a knife to peel potatoes. A doctor drew an iodine gauze through the bullet holes and, a week later, he was back at the front.

Blackwell was sent to Second Phase Argonne Forest. On Nov. 2, 1918, a large shell landed in the midst of his unit and Blackwell was dismembered. His tag was taken and, along with 10 other men, he was left for dead. Blackwell regained consciousness, pushed his intestines back in and, holding his stomach with his hands somehow managed to stumble the two miles to the nearest Army hospital where they sewed his intestines back together.

On Nov. 4, 1918, Blackwell was placed on a bus, then put on a train and sent to a base hospital in St. Nazaire. There he underwent five operations and was then sent to the States in April of 1919. He refused further surgery and was discharged from the Army in Philadelphia, Penn., on July 17, 1919, with a six-inch long and

IDOT officials reveal traffic plans

by JOE SOULAK

Another pitch is being made for Rte. 53 -- the 17-mile, six-lane, $500 million freeway from the Cook County line to Rte. 120 near Grayslake. It is being advanced in a series of public appearances by representatives of the Illinois Dept. of Transportation (IDOT).

This week's meeting of the Chain O'Lakes Council of Mayors heard IDOT engineers Kirk Brown and Linda Wheeler advance the Rte. 53 proposal, along with other highway improvements throughout the state.

An eight-point program supports the year 2010 plan of the Chicago Area Transportation Study (CATS), but includes the entire state, not only the six-county metropolitan Chicago area.

Other traffic experts have pointed out, Brown noted at the Jan. 31 meeting of mayors in Grayslake, that today's highways and arterials are between 15-20 percent overcrowded. If nothing is done to upgrade these by 2010, they will be 30 percent congested. Even with improvements, there will be 20-25 percent congestion, Brown said.

One of the reasons is the state has no money for a mass upgrading of its highway system. There is only enough money to replace 326 miles of highways over the next five years. Meanwhile, there are 600 miles of so-called "deficit" highways or those in need of immediate upgrading. Add to this the 816 miles of highway falling into the same category by 1993 and Illinois will have an estimated 1,100 miles of bad pavement.

Brown and Wheeler are going throughout the state with an eight-point program directed at restoring the highways, arterials and public transportation.

Admitting there are no funds for such a massive undertaking, Brown said the only alternative is a tax increase. He said this may not happen until the administration of Gov. James Thompson is out of office or changes its attitude.

The eight-point IDOT plan targets massive improvements for tollways, arterials linking major highways, mass transit and new construction. It includes:

1) Major highway improvements costing $1.5 billion including a new Rte. 53 and $1.5 billion for mass transit beginning with conversion of the Wisconsin Central Railroad along the former Soo Line tracks for commuter service;

2) Improve arterials feeding major highways;

3) Improve other arterials with traffic flow devices such as right and left turn lanes;

4) Improve others with bus lanes, sidewalks and bus stops convenient for commuters, and set aside special lanes for vehicles with more than several occupants;

5) Add to the 1,800 sensors in highway pavement to monitor traffic and improve flow via computers, particularly on expressways;

6) Add computerized signals to improve traffic flow and, possibly, move traffic restrictors such as buses to an alternate street;

7) Monitor and improve locations where motorists must sit through one traffic light and traffic moves less than 35 miles per hour, both signs of congestion; and

8) Environmental considerations must be taken into account, such as noise and air pollution. Car pooling and use of mass transit can improve air quality. Noise is a major problem along expressways and costs $1 million per mile to correct with sound barriers.

These points must be considered in whole or part because Lake County is a rapid-growth area where households will increase 60 percent by the year 2010, Brown said.

"We are trying to get a consensus on this program," he said. "It is being presented for your comment and critique." The mayors politely listened and said nothing beyond asking where the money will come from for this massive undertaking.

one-inch deep open wound in his left side. He recovered under the care of his family doctor.

Nuclear plant passes

An evaluation report from the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) gave the Lake County Sheriff's department Emergency Services Division a passing grade for the Zion Nuclear Power station unannounced and off-hours radiological emergency preparedness drill, Sheriff Clinton O. Grinnell announced. The report cited, "no weaknesses" during the Oct. 20, drill, Grinnell said. The report was prepared by FEMA Region V, Chicago, Grinnell concluded.

Deadline nears, register now

Voter registration for the primary elections is coming to a close. Lake County Clerk Linda Hess states "now that the February 28 Primary Election is near, it's time to remind everyone of the closing dates for voter registration." "We never want to turn away voters on election day, because they have moved, or changed their names and failed to re-register," said Hess.

This spring there are two elections, Feb. 28 and April 4, and this makes the close of voter registration a little complicated. The closing date is Jan. 30, for those municipalities and school districts voting on Feb. 28 which are: cities of North Chicago and Waukegan; School Dist. 3, Beach Park; School Dist. 50, Woodland; School Dist. 56, Gurnee; and School Dist. 156, McHenry.

"I want to emphasize this is the closing date for only those municipalities and districts listed above," explained Hess. Registration for the April 4 election will re-open on Feb. 25 for a 10-day period. With only five weeks between the two elections, the registration timetables overlap. Voters in the areas listed above who might register on Feb. 25, 26, 27, or 28, are also registering to vote in the April election. This registration will not entitle one to vote on Feb. 28 if one has not registered prior to Jan. 30.

"I know this is confusing," said Hess, "so if you have any question on voter registration, please call our office at (312)360-6628 for clarification."

Voter registration for districts not involved in the February election will remain open until March 6, when voter registration will close countywide.

TO MY VALENTINE — A special treat for your Valentine! Combine in heavy pan one pound white chocolate, one cup chunky peanut butter and one cup miniature marshmallows. Melt, stirring constantly. Then add one cup rice crispies and one cup dry roasted peanuts. Drop by the teaspoon on waxed paper and enjoy.

SOUP STATS — Don't drown your soup-makings in water. Two inches above the meat and veggies should do it. For chicken broth, count on four cups of water for each pound of chicken.

BARGIN FINDER — Know your metals when perusing garage sales and flea markets. Always keep a small magnet in your purse for testing metals — it will not stick to solid brass, but will cling to brass-plated items.

HEAD START — Get a jump on breakfast by preparing the pancake mix the night before. Mix in everything but the baking powder, cover and slip in the fridge. Add baking powder just before pouring on the griddle.

VIOLET INVIGORATOR — At last, a use for rusty nails. It's said you'll get larger blossoms and brighter colors if you insert the nails into soil near your African violets.

SILVER TIP — Don't use rubber gloves when polishing silver. Rubber will tarnish the silver you are cleaning.

WARMING TREND — Bathroom exhaust fans often rob us of lots of hot air in cold weather. You might want to unplug them for the winter and cover the fan opening with cardboard to keep the heat inside.

PET CORNER

Q. Is ringworm contagious among different animals, such as a dog and a cat? Is it possible for it to be transmitted to a human?

A. Yes, ringworm is very contagious, and this comes as a surprise, especially to parents of young children. Ringworm is not really a worm, it is an infection caused by a fungus. Both people and animals are susceptible to the infection and can pass it back and forth between each other.

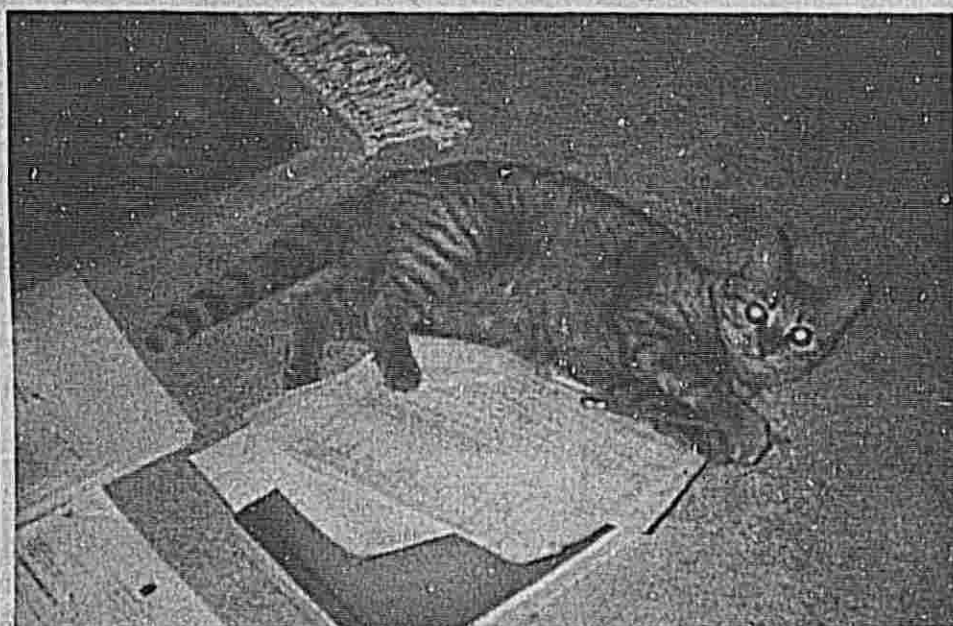

There are several different types of fungi that cause the condition, but the most common in cats and dogs is called microsporum canis. Ringworm spores usually infect the animal's skin and hair, and the signs of it on pets are circular bald patches around the dog's or cat's face, ears or on the limbs. Crusty scales may begin to develop in the patches, and in some cases, lesions may appear which ooze. On some pets, however, the signs of ringworm are so slight, the only thing you might notice is an area of broken hair.

Some of the ringworm fungi live in soil, but the infection is most commonly picked up from the hair of an infected animal or its grooming tools. Kittens and puppies are more likely to get ringworm than adult animals, and children are more likely to pick it up from a pet than their parents. This is because ringworm is more likely to infect those with a weaker immune system.

Though it is highly contagious, it is not fatal. Treatment involves applying an antifungal creme to the infected area until it clears up. If a child is diagnosed as having ringworm, take him or her to the doctor and get the proper topical treatment; take the dog or cat to the veterinarian.

Lake County At A Glance

Honor Hensgen

GURNEE ---Gurnee Village Board is expected to adopt a resolution honoring Trustee Bernard Hensgen, who died Jan. 26. Hensgen, a veteran, was buried at Arlington National Cemetery in Virginia with full military honors. Hensgen, 75, was active in the Heather Ridge Homeowners Assn. and the Gurnee Plan Commission before being appointed trustee in 1986.

Set blood drive

GRAYSLAKE ---St. Gilbert Church members invite community residents to join them on Sunday, Feb. 12 for a parish blood drive. The drive, from 8:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m., will be held in the church gym, 301 E. Belvidere, Grayslake. The blood drive is held in support of LifeSource.

CAP okays projects

VERNON HILLS---The Vernon Area Community Action Project (CAP) has tentatively approved seven of the nine applications it has received for funding of programs to help youth. In previous meetings, representatives of community groups and residents had expressed their views on youth needs in the area CAP serves, basically that lying in Hawthorn School Dist. 73, which also includes much of Mundelein and a portion of Libertyville. The applications, which will divide $5,000, now need to be approved by the Dept. of Children's and Family Services before they become final, as the funds originate from this state agency.

Considering impact fees

ROUND LAKE AREA---Impact fees, that will help reduce the taxpayers burden, were the subject of a well attended public hearing. The hearing aired the need as well as the objections to participating municipalities passing an ordinance empowering them to impose the impact fees on developers and builders.

Floral shop blows

LINCOLNSHIRE---An 18-year-old man was injured when an explosion ripped through Roots Florist and Photography, 425 Milwaukee Ave., causing a fire which was brought under control in about one hour, according to the Vernon Fire Protection Dist. Jimmy Coates was taken to Highland Park Hospital, and three other businesses under the roof of the same strip mall were closed. The Italian Connection restaurant, located next to the floral shop, saw about half of its area damaged.

Sewers irk citizens

LAKE ZURICH---Lake County Dist. 6 Rep. C. Anderson lead a contingent of irate citizens to the village hall in Lake Zurich to protest the smells and stinks that permeate the air of Lake Zurich because of operation problems with the sewer plants. With standing room only, the more than 100 Lake Zurians heard Anderson accuse the village of not cooperating with county officials to solve the village's wastewater woes.

1,800 trees recycled

MUNDELEIN---Oberauf Disposal Service reports that about 1,800 Christmas trees were hauled to the Mundelein Recycling Center, as the village gears up for its curbside recycling program, which will start around March 1, according to Ken Marabella, village administrator. "The people of Mundelein certainly have shown a healthy interest," Marabella said of the evergreen recycling program, as well as the response to bringing recycleable materials of types to the center. Marabella termed volume of trees brought in "tremendous."

Schroeder for Smith

GRAYSLAKE---Retiring M. Edwin Schroeder and Grayslake's first Esther attended the opening campaign together of mayoral candidate Tr Marvin "Marv" Smith. Along with Smith, who is running as an independent were independent candidates Phil H. and Sue K. Stricker running for trustee and incumbent Village Clerk Adell La running for clerk. Virginia "Gin" Russell is running for park district commissioner.

Nix Antioch acres

ANTIOCH --- The Lake County Forest Preserve withdrew the proposal purchasing 1,000 acres in the Red W. Marsh area off of Deep Lake Rd. Antioch. The forest preserve district is also expected to withdraw its injunction request made to stop the Village Antioch from annexing the 1,450 acres that completed the forest preserve's original 2,500 acre purchase proposal. At a special meeting, forest preserve commissioners did leave a door open for the possible purchase of a portion of that property at a future date.

alter selection leaves vacancy

Chief Judge Bernard E. Drew, Jr. of the Illinois Appellate Court has announced that Judge Stephen E. Walter, Grayslake, was appointed to Circuit Judgeship filling the position formerly held by Justice Lawrence D. Inglis who was elected to the Illinois Appellate Court this past November.

Judge Stephen E. Walter was appointed to the bench on Feb. 1, 1985. After graduating from Northwestern University School of Law, he was admitted to the practice of law in Illinois in October, 1973. Judge Walter began his legal career with the Legal Aid Bureau of Chicago in 1973. He also served two years as an assistant public defender in Lake County prior to being elected as an associate judge. He was a partner with the law firm of Walter and Smoker.

Due to the appointment of Judge Stephen E. Walter to Circuit Judge a vacancy now exists in the position of Associate Judge of this Circuit. The vacancy will be filled by the Circuit Judges of this Circuit pursuant to the provisions of Supreme Court Rule 39. It is anticipated that the new Judge will serve primarily in Lake County.

Any attorney licensed to practice law in this State who seeks appointment to fill the Judgeship will have (30) days from Jan. 19 within which to file the Chief Judge of this Circuit and with Samuel D. Conti, director of the administrative office of the Illinois Courts, Supreme Court Bldg., Springfield, Ill. 62706, an application on forms furnished by the director.

Such application forms may be obtained from the Director's Office at Springfield; from the administrative office of the Illinois Courts at 30 N. Michigan Ave., Chicago, Ill. 60602; or from the Chief Judge's office at 18 N. County St., Waukegan, Ill. 60085-4359.

In addition to the official application forms, a supplemental application form must also be filed. Copies of the supplemental application form may be obtained from the Chief Judge's office.

Those attorneys who have previously filed application for the position of associate judge within the last six months will have their previous applications considered if so requested by letter directed to Chief Judge Bernard E. Drew, Jr. with a copy to Samuel D. Conti.

Water quality needs attention

The safety of home drinking water is becoming a concern in Lake County and in Illinois.

While surface water pollution has been more readily monitored since the passage of the Clean Water Act, groundwater is now emerging as a greater concern. Although hidden from sight, groundwater isn't hidden from sources from contamination.

Addressing the topic "How Safe is the Water in Your Home?" will be Harold Hendrickson, groundwater education coordinator, Dept. of Energy and Natural Resources, Springfield. The free program is being sponsored by the Univ. of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service and will be held at its Lake County Education Center in Grayslake from 7 to 9 p.m. on Thursday, Feb. 7. For more information on the program or to pre-register, call Barbara Dahl at (312)223-8627.

United Way names Farmer

Kenneth W. Farmer was installed as chairman of the board of directors for the United Way of Lake County at the annual meeting.

He is very active in community service activities and is currently serving on the boards of the United Way of Lake County and Northern Illinois Council on Alcoholism and Substance Abuse. Past positions with the United Way of Lake County include chairman of the Major Employers Group and associate campaign chairman in 1986, and 1987 general campaign chairman. In 1988, Farmer held the position of vice chairman, marketing.

Game time: 7:30 p.m.

Keys to game: Marian Central, boosted by an earlier than usual start, has become a power in the NWSC. Just ask Johnsborg. The Hurricanes crushed the Skyhawks 82-64 to for the 7-1 league mark. Grayslake was perfect in the first half of league play. The Rams are led by Timm West but as Grant found out in a 62-61 loss, Craig Katzenmaier (24 points) and other talented players are waiting to make their mark. Marian must stop the West-Katzenmaier inside attack and the outside shooting of guards Jim Neuman and Tim Hough.

Prediction: Grayslake keeps it going, wins by five.

Lake Zurich at Round Lake

Warren features an up-tempo attack led by Ozzie Dominguez, Mark Eifert and Nick Stianos. North Chicago counters with a guard tandem of Elbert Moore and Jamil Ahmad, both averaging more than 10 points a game.

Battling for title

Lake Zurich wrestler Brian Barber appears to be in control in 125 pound match against Grant's Randy Melton. Barber won match by decision and eventually won weight class title in Northwest Suburban Conference tournament at Round Lake. Johnsborg won team title for second straight year. ## Regional wrestling tests looming for NWSC champion Johnsborg Johnsborg's wrestling team, which has been state ranked this year, will be hoping to carry momentum it gained from a Northwest Suburban Conference title into a regional at Woodstock which Coach Jim Briscoe describes as a difficult one.

The Skyhawks find themselves in much the same position going into the Feb. 4 regional meet at Woodstock as they did a week ago before the NWSC meet. Briscoe, noting the upset-minded nature of tournament play, expected a closer conference race than most.

But Briscoe thought differently. "I knew it would be a tossup between us, Grant and Round Lake," Briscoe said.

But when Curt Onstead of Grayslake pinned Round Lake's Mike Pratt at 103 pounds to start the final round, the Skyhawks chances looked better.

"That took some momentum away from them," Briscoe said.

And the Skyhawks did in the end win their second title using a veteran lineup which included state ranked wrestlers. Johnsborg won with 28 points to Round Lake's 24.

The final standings in the NWSC, which combined meet points and dual meet points, had Johnsborg on top with 185 points, Round Lake with 167 in second, Grant third at 158, Grayslake fourth at 117.5, Lake Zurich at 115 and Wauconda sixth with 86 points. Marian Central and Marengo rounded out the field.

Although pleased with the win, the Skyhawk mentor is not making any regional predictions, saying that many a 25 to 30-win wrestler have fallen by the wayside come tournament time.

The Skyhawks championships included Sean Kegel at 119 pounds; Mike Lewis at 112; Shane Sperry at 130.

Kegel and Lewis both continued perfect records and head Johnsborg's hopes as possible sectional qualifiers when the Skyhawks travel to Woodstock for the Feb. 4 regional.

Warren girl hoopsters looking for return ticket to Champaign

Can Warren's tournament magic continue into a second year?

Can Grayslake and Carmel play a third close game?

Can Mundelein keep up its late-season momentum?

Is there a sleeper out there, an under .500 team ready to improve by leaps and bounds, pull off some upsets and rally community spirit?

Those questions and more will begin to be answered beginning Feb. 6 when Lake County girls basketball teams begin regional play. Those hoops fans expecting the usual matchups should read carefully, as the IHSA has thrown several curveballs this year.

All regional finals will be played Feb. 9.

A rundown of where your favorite teams are assigned to:

At Antioch: Warren, 18-5 overall heading into the final week of the season and trying to carve a niche of its own into the Warren record book, after last year's bunch made it all the way to Champaign, plays Antioch in the first round at 6:30 p.m. The Blue Devils are led by their lone senior Crystal Cobb. Cobb scored 33 points against Mundelein and has a 40 point outing this year. The Blue Devils should prevail handily against the Sequoias. Round Lake and Grant figure to have a close battle in the second game. Round Lake is led by Cyndie Donner, who has been averaging better than 20 points a game. Grant is improving as the Bulldogs were closing in on the .500 mark in the final weeks of the season.

At Wauconda: Cary-Grove is the clear favorite here. Wauconda would pull off the upset of the year in the first round if the improving Bulldogs knock off the Trojans. In the second game, the Rams and Corsairs battle for the third time. The two teams have split the first two games in December. Grayslake is led by Nancy Brenner and Chris Lupori while Carmel is led by all GCAC selection Michelle Mueller.

At Barrington: Stevenson is the top seed here and will face Lake Zurich in the first game. Barrington tangles with cerfield in the second contest. Stevenson, 14-9, features 5-11 center Dorian Graves and Karen Butler as top scorers. Lake Zurich counters with Marilyn Peterson and Cindy Snetsinger.

At Libertyville: Mundelein won nine straight before being thumped by Warren by 24 points. The Mustangs face Lake Forest in the first round after bouncing back to beat the Scouts following the Warren loss. Ashley Struggles and Susan Musselwhite lead the Mustangs. North Suburban Conference champ Libertyville, 19-6, figures to have little trouble with Highland Park in the second game.

At Johnsborg: The Skyhawks are hosting a regional tournament for the first time in Class AA. The Skyhawks face Woodstock in the first game at 7 p.m. Feb. 6 and McHenry battles Belvidere in the second contest. Lisa Davidson, a 5-11 center, is the leading Johnsborg scorer. The Skyhawks, 7-14 overall, have hopes for the future in sophomores Jessi Freund and Holly Bauer.

Cager
Report

Warren, with two more North Suburban Conference wins, continues its status as the top-ranked team in this week's cager report.

A look at the top five:

Warren (15-4, 9-2 in North Suburban Conference): the Blue Devils had little trouble with Libertyville and Stevenson, winning by 20 and 24 points. Mark Eifert and Nick Stianos were scoring stars for Blue Devils. Warren hosts North Chicago in key game Feb. 3.

Grayslake: the Rams, 12-5 overall, completed a perfect 7-0 first half of the Northwest Suburban Conference season with 62-61 win over Grant. Rams are flying high led by Timm West, Craig Katzenmaier, Steve Grundum and guards Jim Neuman and Tim Hough.

North Chicago and Carmel: the Warhawks (11-7 overall, 7-2 in NSC) can move into first place this weekend. Warhawks face head-to-head battle with Warren. Defense down the stretch proved to be key for Warhawks, who moved up two notches from last poll. The Corsairs also rate a third-place in this poll because of an 11-7 overall record. Corsairs lost, though, 60-48 to Marist and must regroup in East Suburban Catholic Conference action, where they slipped to below .500 at 4-5.

Wilmet, Wis.: the Panthers split two games for a 10-4 overall record.

Class A, AA regionals all set for hoops squads

Called March Madness, even though it begins in February.

That's right, the 1988-89 basketball season is winding down and teams from Richmond to Prairie View who are not gunning for conference titles are trying to gain momentum for Class A and AA regional tournaments.

The fun for basketball fans will take them from Genoa to Gurnee.

Richmond-Burton will compete in the Class A tournament hosted by Genoa-Kingston. The Rockets face Northwest Suburban Conference team Marengo at 6:30 p.m. on Feb. 20. In the second game, Huntley will face North Boone. The second night Feb. 21 will pit Harvard against the home Cogs and Marian Central vs. Alden-Hebron. The semifinals will be played

Feb. 22 and 23 with the first round winners clashing. The title game is Feb. 24 at 7:30 p.m. The winner advances to the Kaneland sectional.

Regional play in Class AA begins Feb. 28.

At Round Lake, Grayslake, the top seed, will face the Panthers at 6:30 p.m. with Grant facing Antioch in the second game.

At Warren, the Blue Devils will take on Mundelein at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 28. On Wednesday, March 1, Carmel will face rival Libertyville with the winners facing each other March 3.

Stevenson is the area representative at the Deerfield regional. The Pats will face the home Warriors at 7:30 p.m. on Feb. 28. Lake Forest and Highland Park clash the next night with the title game March 3.

At Zion-Benton, the Zee-Bees and Waukegan East clash at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 28 with North Chicago and Waukegan West squaring off March 1. Again, the title game is 7:30 p.m. March 3.

The Round Lake winner will face the Warren winner March 7 at Waukegan East with the Deerfield winner taking on the Zion-Benton winner March 8 in sectional play. The title game is March 10 with a 7:30 p.m. tipoff.

Wauconda and Lake Zurich will both travel to Jacobs.

Wauconda will play top seed Dundee-Crown at 6:30 p.m. Feb. 28. The Bears will battle the host Golden Eagles in the second game.

The title game is 7:30 p.m. March 3 with the winner advancing to the Palatine Fremd sectional. The Jacobs winner will face the Schaumburg winner March 8 with a 7:30 p.m. start.

Busy, tired Lancers aiming to regroup in league

Whether it be the NBA or church league, playing three basketball games in one day can be tiring.

The College of Lake County's women's basketball team found about scheduling woes as the three games in three days proved to be too much.

The Lancers lost all three, but the 55-46 loss at home to Malcom X was a game coach Don Zeman believes his team could have won.

"We took a five-point lead in the second half but they wore us out. We came to a standstill offensively and defensively. I would have preferred to see the game spread out more," Zeman said.

Malcom X led at halftime 25-21.

Teri Huntington had 21 and Crystal Payne 17.

Huntington and Payne were the leading scorers in all three CLC games.

"When we are successful, we get a little more support from another player," Zeman said.

The night before, the Lancers fell 77-67 to Highland.

CLC played better in that game than it did when they lost by 30 to Highland in December, Zeman said.

Huntington and Payne led the Lancers with 26 points each.

CLC trailed only 33-32 at halftime.

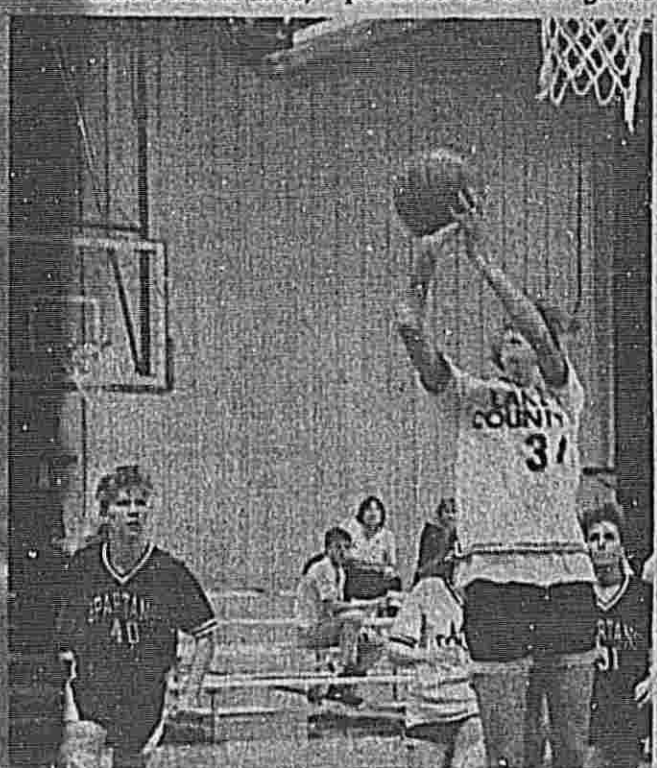

The difference in the contest was free throws, as Highland outscored the Lancers 13-2 in that area.

The Lancers came into the three games off a three-game win streak in conference play but fell to 4-4 with a 106-53 loss to McHenry.

Jodie Kanaly and Karey Jones proved to be too much for CLC, scoring 35 points.

Huntington had 24 and Payne 17 for the Lancers.

Going for two

College of Lake County women's basketball player Teri Huntington shows concentration as she goes up for two more points against Elgin. Huntington, a Warren Twp. High School graduate, is leading scorer for Lancers this season.

Katzenmaier, Rams' show adds up to 'classic' win

By STEVE PETERSON
Sports Editor
Let's face it.

Few sporting events live up to their billing. How many "Fights of the Century" have there been? Or "this game will be just like the seventh game of the World Series" or how many Super Bowls, with two weeks of hype and up to ten hours of pre-game puff, have not been blowouts?

Grayslake and Fox Lake high school basketball fans were treated to a rare exception Friday when the Bulldogs came to Ram country. From the greeting of Rams players by students with "low fives" to the game-winning shot by Craig Katzenmaier with only three seconds left,

"This one was a classic," Grayslake Coach Greg Groth said afterward, the same statement he made previous to the contest.

The win by Grayslake was especially satisfying since it gave the Rams a perfect 7-0 record through the first half of the conference season. The Rams were 12-5 after the victory, leaving them in striking distance of a 20-win season.

Katzenmaier, a 6-3 senior forward, had heretofore not occupied the headlines. But this night he scored 24 points before a huge home crowd.

These Rams are a versatile bunch.

Timm West, who, as usual, was facing more than one player each time he touched the ball, showed to facets of his game which will leave scouts wondering what next: 14-for-16 from the free-throw line and eight assists, including the pass which led to the game winner.

"I think we were a little too pumped up. We had a great week of practice," Groth said.

The defeat, which dropped Grant's league record to 4-3, overshadowed an outstanding performance by Kip Paul. Paul, a 5-11 guard, at times single-handedly kept the Bulldogs in the game. He finished with 23 points.

But like most close games, free throws decided the final score. Both teams had 21 field goals, but Grayslake outscored the visitors 17-13 at the so-called charity stripe.

"We told the kids before the game that it would be a close game and they would have to shoot their average," Maple, whose club has now lost twice after winning five straight, said.

Katzenmaier said he was surprised at how open he was in his 11 baskets, almost all layups.

The Rams made matters more interesting than they had to be in the fourth quarter when they were caught by Grant after leading by nine points at one time, 56-47 on a (what else) Katzenmaier layup.

"We did not play smart at the end of the game," Groth said.

The home team committed the cardinal sin of fouling a trailing opponent and the Bulldogs made just enough to keep it close. In fact, when Jamie Maiworm canned one with 1:59 left, Todd Culotta put back the offensive rebound on the second miss for a 59-58 Grant lead.

Katzenmaier put the Rams back up again after getting a key defensive rebound. That was with 35 seconds left and Grant answered with a driving layup by Paul with eight seconds left.

"I told them that eight seconds was a lot of time to bring the ball up the court. We had five seniors on the floor at that time," Groth said.

And then West, who looked like he was gunning for a point-guard spot in the next game with sharp passing, found Katzenmaier open for the winning hoop.

Grant did have one more chance as "Katz" missed a free throw, but West showed his defensive talents by intercepting the last-second pass.

Motorcycle racers hope for strong cold snap

When most Lake County residents heard the weather forecasts for this weekend, they shuttered.

How long has it been since the temperatures have been below freezing, let alone zero?

Too long, though for Ron Witka, owner of Sand Bar Inn in Antioch and he is hoping that weather forecasters are right when they predict the 60 degree below readings in Alaska are coming south.

For Witka is organizing a motorcycle race on Lake Marie in Antioch on Feb. 5. That is if Mother Nature cooperates.

"I sure do hope so," Witka said of the predicted cold weather.

If the race is held as scheduled, spectators can expect to see motorcycles in all sizes and their drivers competing. Witka explained that the age divisions begin at five-years old and continue through adult.

"We have the real small mini-bikes up to the biggest ones," he said.

Witka said the event, which is sanctioned by the American Motorcyclists Assn., has become "a family oriented event".

Competitors will be displaying their skills on a quarter-mile track.

In addition to the Sand Bar Inn, other sponsors of the race include J & L Gas & Oil, RC Cola and Pabst Blue Ribbon. Losch Distributors of Waukegan.

Carmel seeks better start

Carmel's boys basketball team will once again be facing a long bus ride when the Corsairs travel to Holy Cross Feb. 3.

And Coach Scott Rosberg is hoping his forces will step off the bus and onto the court with better momentum than they did in the last game.

"Holy Cross is on a roll now. They're a good shooting team. We need to come out much more aggressively," Rosberg said.

A poor start was what did the Corsairs in at Marist. Marist jumped out to a 12-3 lead and allowed Carmel only 12 first half points.

"The first quarter killed us," Rosberg said.

The Corsairs, 11-7 overall and 4-5 in ESCC play, used defensive pressure to get back into the game in the second half, cutting a 29-12 lead to six points but could not get over the hump.

Randy Bierman led the Corsairs with 14 points and Chris Mikrut had 11 including three three-point shots.

Holy Cross is coming off an exciting 84-83 overtime win against St. Pats, a win which got Holy Cross out of the ESCC basement.

Elsewhere in the league, St. Viator edged Joliet

Catholic 68-62 and league-leading St. Joseph got by Notre Dame 57-50.

CLC after more confidence, wins

College of Lake County's men's basketball team will be looking for confidence when they take a break from Skyway Conference wars Feb. 4.

The Lancers will travel to Milwaukee to face MATC in a non-conference game.

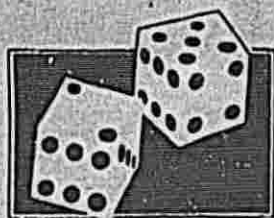

"We've lost some of our confidence," CLC Coach Dr. Bruce Smith said.

The Lancers dropped a close game and were blown out by Wright in Skyway Conference action. The Lancers, 8-15 overall and 4-4 in league play, lost a close 81-79 decision to McHenry after losing 77-49 to Waubesa.

Against McHenry, Al Davis keyed a rally for the visitors which trimmed a MCC lead to 57-55.

Mike Fisel did his best to keep the visitors in the game with 22 points. A Fisel hoop trimmed the margin to three points in the second half.

Lakeland Newspapers is seeking a combination of artistic talent and professional competence for a full-time position as staff photographer.

photography, although darkroom work will not be required. Must be comfortable with "bread and butter" assignments while awaiting the call for spot

Beginning the Landmark Designs Best of 1988 series is the Madison 1. Over the next five weeks we will be bringing you the most popular plans for 1988, as determined by your response.

The earth-sheltered Madison 1 nestles into a hillside or berm. Its gently angled floor plan can conform to a variety of slope contours without changing the basic orientation of the house. Skylights, 180 degree windows, exterior walks and a patio give the Madison 1 an open feeling despite its enclosed back wall.

As in all earth sheltered homes, the living spaces are on the open side, for light and fire safety. The most prominent feature is the combined kitchen/living/dining room, with its semicircle of tall windows catching light from three sides. The kitchen counters, sitting at the hinge of two wall angles, make a lazy bend to create space for a media nook and pantry. A utility room with extra storage space fills the back corner of the house.

The master suite is luxurious for a small home. Besides the usual private bath, vanity, and walk-in closet, it also includes an oversized tub that looks out on the planting of a side patio.

The Madison 1 was designed for a couple or small family. With only one bedroom besides the master, the house will quickly get crowded with overnight guests or additional children. It's hard to simply "knock out a wall" to expand an earth sheltered home. However if the automobiles could survive outside (or could be housed in a separate structure) the existing garage could be finished as living space. This would avoid both the aesthetic damage of modifying the Madison 1's clean lines, and the expense of breaking its hefty foundation.

For a study plan of the Madison 1 (288-21), send $5.00 to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2307, Eugene, OR 97402. (Be sure to specify plan name & number when ordering). Designers, Architects and readers with plans they would like to see featured also are invited to contact Landmark.

Beginning the Landmark Designs Best of 1988 series is the Madison 1. Over the next five weeks we will be bringing you the most popular plans for 1988, as determined by your response.
The earth-sheltered Madison 1 nestles into a hillside or berm. Its gently angled floor plan can conform to a variety of slope contours without changing the basic orientation of the house. Skylights, 180 degree windows, exterior walks and a patio give the Madison 1 an open feeling despite its enclosed back wall.
As in all earth sheltered homes, the living spaces are on the open side, for light and fire safety. The most prominent feature is the combined kitchen/living/dining room, with its semicircle of tall windows catching light from three sides. The kitchen counters, sitting at the hinge of two wall angles, make a lazy bend to create space for a media nook and pantry. A utility room with extra storage space fills the back corner of the house.
The master suite is luxurious for a small home. Besides the usual private bath, vanity, and walk-in closet, it also includes an oversized tub that looks out on the planting of a side patio.
The Madison 1 was designed for a couple or small family. With only one bedroom besides the master, the house will quickly get crowded with overnight guests or additional children. It's hard to simply "knock out a wall" to expand an earth sheltered home. However if the automobiles could survive outside (or could be housed in a separate structure) the existing garage could be finished as living space. This would avoid both the aesthetic damage of modifying the Madison 1's clean lines, and the expense of breaking its hefty foundation.
For a study plan of the Madison 1 (288-21), send $5.00 to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2307, Eugene, OR 97402. (Be sure to specify plan name & number when ordering). Designers, Architects and readers with plans they would like to see featured also are invited to contact Landmark.
